INDONESIA'S PALM OIL EXPORT BAN MAY HIT INDIAN INDUSTRY

Edible oil prices are already on fire as imports have halved due to the Ukraine war; palm oil shortage will make the situation worse

FOOD PROCESSING, FMCG FIRMS UNDER PRESSURE

Analysts say the move will further push up the prices of other edible oils such as soybean oil and sunflower oil. As palm oil is a key ingredient used in the food processing and consumer goods industries, the ban will have a cascading effect, jacking up the prices of items such as potato chips, noodles, frozen desserts, biscuits and other snacks that use edible oil

CRUDE PALM OIL MAY BE EXCLUDED

- Indonesia, the world's largest palm oil producer, announced the ban on Saturday in a bid to cool domestic prices. While no details were spelt out then, some experts believe the ban will exclude crude palm oil, which is mostly used by FMCG firms. In which case, it may not have a huge adverse effect on India | P13

Lone Covid hotspot B'luru brings back mask mandate

Health officials focus on contact tracing, changing testing strategies

RAMU PATIL AND CHETANA BELAGERE @ Bengaluru

BENGALURU'S single-handed push aiding a rise in Covid-19 cases in Karnataka, and increasing cases in other states, have forced the state government to declare wearing of masks mandatory again. Guidelines were issued on Monday, asking people to maintain a social distance of two feet in public places.

Health and Medical Education Minister Dr K Sudhakar, however, said although masks are mandatory, as of now, fines will not be imposed on those violating the guidelines, and appealed to people to take the guidelines seriously to prevent Covid-19 spread.

The guidelines were issued after Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai's meeting with experts to take stock of the situation after a slight increase in the state's caseload, almost solely driven by Bengaluru.

The CM held the meeting with experts ahead of the Prime Minister's meeting with the Chief Ministers on Wednesday, to discuss precautionary measures to be taken to prevent a fourth wave.

While most districts continue to report zero cases, Bengaluru Urban has been adding nearly 98 per cent of the daily Covid-19 caseload. Of 64 cases across Karnataka on Monday, 63 were from Bengaluru and one from Dakshina Kannada, while 28 remaining districts on the health department's data list had zero cases. This trend has been consistent over the past several days.

The positivity rate in the city peaked at 3.4 per cent on Saturday, which is well above the national average of 0.97 per cent. Health officials are now focusing on strict contact tracing, changing testing strategies and strict surveillance methods to contain the spread in Bengaluru. "Bengaluru has seen an uptick in cases. However, we are taking all precautions and measures to contain the spread. Wearing of masks is the first and foremost thing all Bengalurueans should do," said Dr KV Thrilok Chandra, Special Commissioner, BBMP (Health). P3

ASTHMA DRUG CAN BLOCK COVID PROTEIN

Researchers at the Indian Institute of Science, Bengaluru found a drug used to stave off asthma attacks can block a vital protein produced by the SARS-CoV-2 virus that targets the immune system. Forest dept warns of 'killer trees' due to works

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

THE death of two travellers, including a two-year-old child, on the Bengaluru-Mysuru highway on Monday morning, after a heavy tree branch fell on their moving car, is a warning that should not be ignored.

Karnataka forest department officials have warned of more such incidents as roadside trees are becoming vulnerable due to ongoing civil works on roads in the city and its outskirts.

Officials have alerted the state government, and listed some roads and areas where trees are becoming weak — Mysuru Road, Magadi Road, Malleswaram, Palace Road, Raj Bhavan Road, RR Nagar, Mahadevapura, Bellandur, Ring Road, among others.

The mangled remains of a Maruti Omni, on which a tree branch fell on Monday morning, killing the driver and his toddler son, on the Bengaluru-Mysuru highway.

Officials said trees are becoming vulnerable because of unplanned and unscientific civic works by engineers of various government agencies, like Karnataka Road Development Karnataka Road Development Corporation, National Highway Authority of India, Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike, energy department, Bangalore Water Supply & Sewerage Board, Bangalore Electricity Supply Company (Bescom) and other agencies. The caution comes even as the forest department is undertaking a survey of the total number of trees in Bengaluru and their health condition. P2

Twitter goes to Musk in $44-billion deal

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

AFTER trying to swat him like a fly barely 10 days ago, social media giant Twitter on Monday accepted billionaire Elon Musk's proposal to buy the platform for $54.20 a share in cash in a transaction valued at approximately $44 billion.

In an official announcement made on Monday night, Twitter said it will become a privately held firm upon completion of the transaction. The announcement came after marathon discussions between Musk and Twitter's board.

The price is 38% more than the stock's close on April 1, the last business day before the Tesla CEO disclosed a significant stake in the company, sparking a share rally.

"Free speech is the bedrock of a functioning democracy, and Twitter is the digital town square where matters vital to the future of humanity are debated," said Musk in a statement included with the release. "I also want to make Twitter better than ever by enhancing the product with new features, making the algorithms open source to increase trust, defeating the spam bots, and authenticating all humans," he added.

Earlier, Twitter had tried to ward off Musk's offer that did not have the mechanics of the acquisition. The platform took anti-takeover measures, called poison pill, to thwart the bid.

But the social media major's board began serious negotiations with Musk after he disclosed he had lined up as much $46.5 billion in financing – $25.5 billion in loans and $21 billion in personal equity.

Earlier, the guesstimate of the buyout was $43 billion. The bill went by $1 billion after Twitter disclosed more shares at its disposal.

3-HR LONG MEET

Congress sets up panels, no word on PK

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Congress on Monday constituted an Empowered Action Group to prepare the party for the Lok Sabha polls in 2024 after examining a comprehensive revival plan proposed by political strategist Prashant Kishor, but there was no word on his induction into the party.

An eight-member committee that studied Kishor's plan held a three-hour long meeting at Congress chief Sonia Gandhi's 10, Janpath residence, following which it was decided to set up the empowered group.

Kishor's meeting with Telangana Chief Minister K Chandrashekar Rao last weekend, following which the ruling Telangana Rashtra Samithi decided to hire the strategist's I-PAC for poll work, seems to have become the latest sticking point in his induction with a section of the committee sharing concerns about his loyalty and conflict of interest with Sonia. There were indications that the call on getting him on board the Congress could be delayed.

The party also announced six panels to do the spadework ahead of the Congress 'Chintan Shivir' in Udaipur from May 13-15. G-23 members like Ghulam Nabi Azad, Manish Tewari and Bhupinder Singh Hooda found berths in the panels. Kerala's Ramesh Chennithala, too, was included. P9

IOB, Central Bank divestment on fast-track after good results

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

THE Centre plans to accelerate the process of privatisation of the Indian Overseas Bank (IOB) and Central Bank of India after the two banks posted good quarterly results, finance ministry sources said. The government's public policy think tank Niti Aayog has already proposed the names of these two PSBs to the core group of Secretaries on Disinvestment (CGD) for privatisation.

"We had to put a halt to the privatisation process in between because of the protests by bank associations and State elections. But now, after the banks registered positive results in the December quarter, it will gather steam. CGD is assessing the proposal submitted by Niti Aayog," an official told this newspaper.

Another official pointed out that there is no provision for privatisation of banks in the Bank Nationalization Act. So, an amendment is needed in the Act to privatise the state-owned lenders. "A few amendments have been proposed to the Banking Regulation Act and Bank Nationalisation Act to facilitate the privatisation. We are trying to make an attractive scheme related to employees' compensation to avoid strikes," he said.

In the October-December quarter, Chennai-based IOB's net profit doubled to ₹454 crore against ₹213 crore in the year-ago period. In the same period, Central Bank of India registered a 69% increase in its net profit at ₹279 crore.

BBMP division: Experts suggest revising Act

Delhi reverted to one corporation: Govt official

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

GOVERNMENT officials, experts and influential people are divided in their opinion regarding the division of the Bengaluru city administration into multiple city corporations, instead of one.

As Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai said all efforts will be done to decongest the city and improve infrastructure, city's influential voices have once again sought the division in administration of Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP). TV Mohandas Pai, Chairman of Manipal Global, said: "To manage Bengaluru, reform of governance is needed. This is an old recommendation as the BBMP has become unwieldy. The city is in bad shape, with filthy streets, poor lighting, potholes, halted projects, a delay in metro and many others. Most are civic issues which have not been tackled." He added that earlier it was suggested during Congress regime and now it has come up again.

Officials in the Urban Development Department and BBMP point out that with the BBMP Act in place, dividing BBMP's administration is not possible. "The Act will have to be revised. Also with delimitation and reservations in wards being under Supreme Court litigation, it will become more difficult," said a government official.

In 2019-20, a committee, under Justice (retired) BS Patil had submitted a report to the government on the division of BBMP administration. The government took portions of it and shelved the rest of the report. Instead of dividing the corporation, it created eight zonal commissioners.

Justice Patil said the divisions can still be done within the purview of the Act. He said that the recommendations were made after a detailed study of the subject and keeping in mind the growth of the city. As a citizen, the division of administration is needed as a single commissioner cannot handle the vast city. It is not a replica of the Delhi model and a three-tier system was suggested. A senior government official said: "Delhi has gone back to a single city corporation after realising the errors. If the division is done, then elections planned will get delayed. In fact, it was suggested to retain old Bengaluru and new areas have separate municipalities, but the government was keen on zonal classifications. Now each zone should be given more powers."

Rampant concretisation has exposed the roots of roadside trees making them more vulnerable during the monsoon | VINOD KUMAR.T

Trees prone to fall as roots are being cut

"THE manner in which roots of roadside trees are being cut for road widening, tarring, concreting and even for making space for laying utility cables and underground water lines is damaging trees. In some cases, roots are cut by half and the area around the standing tree is concretised which make trees prone to fall during strong winds and heavy downpour," said a senior forest official.

The falling of branches, quick drying up, delayed greening and flowering are not just signs of climate change, but also of gradual death, ignored by urban planners. In the wake of the upcoming monsoon, citizens, especially those who are travelling, must exercise caution, the official added.

The forest department has placed its observations before the High Court-constituted Tree Committee, state government, Chief Minister and Karnataka High Court.

The roads near TV Tower, including Jayamahal Road, is a classic example of how trees can be made a part of city infrastructure. Accepting the advice of the forest department, in the 1990s, roads were redesigned along the tree canopy. This is maintained even now, and can be replicated in other places also, point out experts.

Noted environmentalist A N Yellappa Reddy pointed to a lack of open space around trees. Shrinking ground space and packing concrete around roots can lead to weakening of trees, he added.

Tree branch slams into Omni, kills father and son

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

IN a tragic incident, a 40-year-old man and his 22-old-month son died on the spot, after the branch of a roadside tree fell on the Maruti Omni in which they were returning to the city. The incident happened at Kumbapura Gate on the Bengaluru-Mysuru highway, around 6am on Monday. Three others, including his wife and two daughters, sustained minor injuries. The family had gone to Mandya for a village festival on Sunday.

Sundaresh was driving and his son Thanmay was in the front passenger seat, while the injured -- Sundaresh's 35-year-old wife and daughters Ghanavi (10) and Shanavi (8) -- were in the back seat.

Sundaresh was a car driver, while his wife is a homemaker. The bodies were handed over to the family after postmortem at Ramanagara Government Hospital. Traffic on both sides of the road was affected for some time, till the tree branch was cut into pieces and the road cleared. Ramanagara Traffic Police registered a case and are investigating.

Officials trade letters over Pattandur lake

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

FOLLOWING sustained protests and follow-up with authorities, residents have finally received a response from BBMP Chief Commissioner Gaurav Gupta's office, stating that a report has been sought into the Pattandur Agrahara Lake issue.

When residents had approached Mahadevapura Zonal Commissioner, Trilok Chandra, he said that no correspondence had been received. "We got communication from a BBMP official saying that a letter had been sent to the zonal commissioner ordering a report on the issue. We felt that this was unnecessary, especially as the same zonal commissioner had already sent two letters to stop the road construction. But when we approached him on Monday, we found that no such letter had been received," said Sandeep Anirudhan, one of the residents of the area.

Since 2017, the Pattandur Agrahara Lake issue has been mired in controversy after construction work started on the lake's buffer zone. Residents decided to confront the authorities and prevent the road construction. Following the encroaching of the lake, the Mahadevapura Zonal Commissioner had sent two letters, citing NGT Rules and asking that the construction be stopped but it continued.

The residents posted on social media asking who will handle the case. Chandra cited the post and sent another letter for immediate investigation into the case. Gupta and BBMP official could not be reached for clarification on the issue.

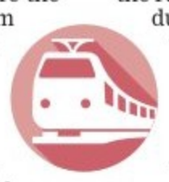
RPF cops save mother, daughter lying on tracks

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru:

A mother and her teenaged daughter, who reside at Mahadevapura, who attempted to commit suicide by lying across a railway track near Krishnarajapuram railway station, were rescued literally from the jaws of death, by Railway Protection Force constables. The 45-year-old woman alleged harassment at the hands of her daughter-in-law, as the reason for the extreme step.

According to a source, the incident took place at 7.35am Sunday, minutes before the SBC-Marikuppam MEMU train was to arrive. "Beat constables Kuldeep Kumar and Hawa Singh were patrolling the station and railway tracks when they suddenly spotted the duo lying across the rails, a little beyond the station. Their heads were resting on one rail and the mother was forcibly holding her 14-year-old daughter on to the rail," the source said. The duo hails from Nalanda village in Bihar.



The constables pleaded with them to get off the tracks. "When they refused to budge, they called up women constables to remove them forcibly from the tracks. However, they sighted the Marikuppam train (No. 06396) approaching, and when the two refused to move, the cops dragged them off the tracks and saved their lives," the source added. When counselled, the woman said she was a widow. "Her son got married a year ago and her daughter-in-law, a homemaker, would harass her and her daughter over small household matters. Unable to bear it, she decided to end her life," the source said. While RPF wanted to help the woman register a case against her daughter-in-law at the local police station, she did not want to do so.

POLICE DEPLOYED AT CLARENCE HIGH SCHOOL OVER BIBLE RULE

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

AFTER the hijab controversy, educational institutions and the education department are under fire again. The members of Hindu Janajagruti Samiti alleged that Clarence High School was imposing the Bible on the students, and alleged that it was made compulsory for school children to carry it to the classroom.

Following the incident, Pulakeshinagar police on Monday deployed police personnel at the school, anticipating protest. The Samiti had made the accusation on Sunday evening.

Education Minister BC Nagesh said that he will look into the issue and promised to take action. However, despite repeated attempts by TNIE, the school authorities were unavailable for comment. Block Education Officer for Bengaluru North said that he had visited the school on Monday to seek an explanation into the matter. "I have visited the school and a formal letter will be served to the school from the department on Tuesday for a clarification and proper verification into the matter. Following this, a report will be filed to seek an explanation on the matter," he said.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

26th April : Balance and harmony are everything. It benefits all of us to listen to friends' and colleagues' opinions. Today's celestial message requires us to work for agreement in all professional and personal affairs, looking for the path of greatest agreement and the best possible compromise.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Yours is not the only sign that is subject to epic astrological configurations as the planets form and re-form their patterns across your chart. However, right now you have more to learn about personal relationships than almost anyone else - and most to benefit.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
There is no real lack of co-operation or consideration on the part of partners, yet it may still be difficult to finalise any long-term plans, largely because the planetary picture is changing so rapidly this week. You're on a long-range cycle of uncertainty, so don't expect instant results.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
It's necessary to say a few more words about your financial situation. In particular, you can expect to gain from new partnerships, especially with members of the female sex, or from investments in the arts. Your most dynamic partnership, though, may still be a secret.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
This period favours domestic repairs and decorations around the home. The emphasis seems to be on luxury and colour rather than on what is necessary for your security or survival. There is so much to gain from a generous gesture, so don't hold back.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
The reason why someone feels that you alone can get them off the hook is that they sense the presence of the wise planet, Jupiter, in a part of your chart that is dedicated to selfless deeds, a truly noble combination. There still seems to be no way to restrict the explosion in your expenses, but a solution will appear soon.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
In your solar chart, the signs of Capricorn and Cancer reveal much about your creative desires in the broadest sense - the wish to express your individuality on the highest level. These celestial signs' importance points you to the deeper significance of your current ambitions.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
It's strange how a state of uncertainty internationally is reflected in changing arrangements in your personal life. The key is the stars' tendency to act on many different levels both in your private affairs and in your environment - and in your community.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
It now seems without question that your planets are pulling you in two directions. Mars is insisting that you get out and about, mixing widely and making new friends, while Venus is urging you to hide yourself away with a chosen loved one, forgetting the cares of the world.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Take extra care when travelling over the next few days, and allow for last-minute changes of plan, probably prompted by close partners. Delays due to mechanical failure seem to be less likely, but there is some other obstacle in the way, perhaps no more than your own lack of confidence.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
We are now entering another major challenging phase, during which events that took place months ago may be repeated, though not in exactly the same form. The immediate task now is to put new relationships on a firm footing and fulfil your long-term promises.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
According to one of the greatest astrologers of the last century, the transits you are now experiencing may operate in one of two ways. One is 'vain and idle', the other is 'reckless and revolutionary'. You clearly have great scope for stirring up your friends and your environment! Use it wisely!

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Home, family and property matters do not seem to be causing particular concern at the moment, at least not as much as earlier in the year. You may therefore bring your attention to bear on more wide-ranging ambitions, particularly if an emotional tie is under scrutiny.

K'taka sets 2027 target to become malaria-free

10 districts have not seen cases for 3 years

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

KARNATAKA has set a target to eliminate malaria by 2027, three years before the 2030 target set by the Union government. Karnataka has received national recognition and appreciation for its efforts to eliminate malaria in the past six years, between 2015 and 2021, as part of the National Framework for Malaria Elimination in India (NFMEI) initiative. Due to the untiring efforts to eliminate malaria, the Director General of Health Services (DGHS), Ministry of Health and Family Welfare, said that Karnataka, which had a Category-2 classification in malaria elimination, has been upgraded and classified as Category-1.

The state has, in the past three years, been reporting fewer cases every year. Tweeting about it, Karnataka Health Minister Dr K Sudhakar thanked all health workers and official machinery.

Speaking at an event at Bangalore Medical College and Research Institute, he said, "The Union government has a target of making India malaria-free by 2030, and already 10 districts in Karnataka have not seen a single case of malaria in the past three years. All the credit goes to health officials, staff and ASHA workers," he added. Currently, the most number of malaria cases in Karnataka are in Udupi and Dakshina Kannada districts and research is under way to understand the reason for this, he said.

"The easiest way to detect malaria is to get a blood test, which is available at all primary health centres, government taluk hospitals and government district hospitals," Sudhakar added.

Asthma drug reduces Covid patients' hospitalisation: Study

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

A drug used to stave off asthma attacks can block a vital protein produced by the SARS-CoV-2 virus that targets the immune system, researchers at the Indian Institute of Science, Bengaluru, have found The protein, which researchers say remains unlikely to change through Covid-19 variants, can be targeted by the drug, said Tanweer Hussain, assistant professor in the Department of Molecular Reproduction, Development and Genetics (MRDG), IISc, and one of the lead researchers.

"Clinicians have tried using the drug and there are reports that said that Montelukast reduced hospitalisation in Covid-19 patients. However, how exactly it works still needs to be studied," he said. Interestingly, Bengaluru is also considered the asthma capital of India, due to the increase in pollution over the years. Of the number of worldwide asthma cases, ten come from India.

The SARS-CoV-2 virus, which causes Covid-19, produces a protein called non-structural protein-1, or NSP1, which attacks and weakens the immune system in humans. NSP1 binds with human immune cells and prevents the creation of important proteins used by the immune system. In doing so, the protein effectively weakens the immune system and suppresses its functioning.

In trying to prevent this phenomenon, researchers had found that the asthma drug, Montelukast, used for over two decades to treat conditions like asthma, was able to bind to NSP1, preventing any more damage to the immune system. The researchers had tested around 1,600 FDA-approved drugs to find one that could prevent NSP1's effects on the immune system.

The researchers had narrowed down to two drugs, Montelukast and an anti-HIV drug called Saquinavir. "There are two aspects to consider: one is affinity and the other is stability. Saquinavir showed good affinity, but not good stability. However, Montelukast was able to bind stably and had good affinity," said Mohammad Afsar, a former project scientist at MRDG and the lead author of the study.

The study, titled 'Drug targeting NSP1-ribosomal complex shows antiviral activity against SARS-CoV-2' was published in eLife, a UK-based scientific journal. With the results of the study, the team of researchers hopes to modify the drug to make it more potent and deadly against the SARS-CoV-2 virus, as well as identify more drugs that are capable of strong antiviral activity against the virus.

CM: Officials to ensure constant monitoring

DURING Monday's meeting, the CM directed officials to ensure constant monitoring of Covid cases, intensify awareness campaigns for total vaccination, and implement telemonitoring of passengers arriving from Japan, Thailand and other countries which are witnessing a surge in cases. People coming from those countries will be monitored at the airport, their details will be collected and they will be monitored even after they return home.

"We must understand that it is mainly from Bengaluru that many people travel to and fro to not just international countries, but also to other states. It is summer vacation and for the past two years, people have not been able to travel. Now, there is 'revenge tourism' and the number of cases is seeing an uptick in some countries frequently visited by Bengalureans and also neighbouring states," said an expert from TAC, on condition of anonymity.

Dr CN Manjunath, Director, Jayadeva Hospital, and nodal officer for testing, Technical Advisory Committee (TAC), said, "This virus seems to have a good memory and follows the Delhi-Maharashtra-Kerala-Karnataka route pattern. Going by this, we can expect cases to increase in the next few weeks," he said.

DJ HALLI/KG HALLI RIOTS

HC confirms rejection of bail plea of accused

BENGALURU: The Karnataka High Court confirmed the order passed by the Special Court for NIA Cases rejecting the bail application filed by Mohamed Shariff, president of Social Democratic Party of India (SDPI), Bengaluru District, in connection with the 2020 DJ Halli and KG Halli riots. The division bench of Justice B Veerappa and Justice S Rachaiah noted that the chargesheet filed against the appellant clearly depicts his active participation in the offence as a member of the terrorist gang and in conspiracy with other accused persons for criminal act in violent acts. Thereby, he was coordinating with movement of other accused persons, including SDPI, during the violent acts at KG Halli and DJ Halli police stations, the bench said. Shariff, who is the accused No. 25, allegedly hatched a criminal conspiracy with accused No.2 Mujamil Pasha and other SDPI leaders. The accused filed the appeal under Section 24 of the National Investigation Agency Act against the order passed by the Special Court.

CRIME PATROL

3 FROM AFRICA HELD FOR DUPING PEOPLE

BENGALURU: Three Africans, who created fake websites of hospitals and duped people on the pretext of buying and selling kidneys, have been arrested by the CEN police of the South-East division. Among the accused, two are Nigerians while one hails from Ghana. Police said a private hospital had lodged a complaint with the police alleging that miscreants had created a fake website misusing hospitals' names and had advertised about kidney transplantation, offering Rs. 4 crores to donors.

YET ANOTHER CASE OF ROAD RAGE, BIKER VANDALISES TWO CARS

BENGALURU: In a fresh incident of road rage, an unidentified man allegedly vandalised two parked cars on Srinagar Main Road in Hanumantha Nagar on Sunday night. This is the third such incident within a month. A senior police officer said that complainant Venkatesh B J from Kunigal had come to drop off his family after visiting a temple. Around 8.30 pm, he parked the car in the middle of the road and meanwhile, a biker came and brushed against the car. Venkatesh got down to question the reckless driving by the biker and in the melee, the biker abused him. In a fit of rage, the biker allegedly attacked his car and another car with a cricket bat.The residents, who heard a loud thud, came out and found the bike rider, who was smoking, trying to throw the butt inside the car. They immediately alerted the police. But, the police are yet to arrest the accused. Two days ago, a 24-year-old was stabbed to death by a gang after a bike brushed against him and he asked the accused to ride carefully in Kengeri Satellite Town.

BJP will lose its base in Karnataka after the 2023 Assembly polls, said former chief minister H D Kumaraswamy. Speaking at Srinivasapura, Kolar, after participating in Janata Jaladhara programme, he said, ''From the hijab row to not buying gold from Muslim shops, the issue has reached another level and it's not a good sign for the BJP.''

B'luru Tech Summit in Nov; CM interacts with IT-BT reps, promises better amenities

For No. 1 Silicon City, K'taka govt to improve roads, transport infra

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai addresses a gathering of CEOs in the run up to Bengaluru Tech Summit 2022, in Bengaluru on Monday

THE Karnataka government wants to make Bengaluru the "Number 1 Silicon City in the world", Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai said on Monday. He pledged to provide better infrastructure and focus on decongestion of traffic, during the curtain raiser for Bengaluru Tech Summit 2022.

The State government is due to organise the 25th Bengaluru Tech Summit -- BTS 2022 -- from November 16 to 18.

Interacting with more than 100 representatives of various IT-BT companies for more than three hours, Bommai said the government will focus on IT pockets of Bengaluru as well as improve infrastructure on the city outskirts. "When it comes to Silicon Cities, there are only two in the world -- California in US and Bengaluru in India. We want to make Bengaluru Number 1 Silicon City," he said.

He said the government will create more novel clusters in research and attract youngsters in the field of IT-BT and other sectors. He assured the firms that they could work together to make Bengaluru the best Silicon City.

Bommai told reporters that with the Bengaluru Tech Summit approaching its silver jubilee year, the government has decided to raise the flagship tech event to the international level.

On his interaction with entrepreneurs and representatives of the IT-BT sector, he said, "These representatives have given suggestions on policies, industrial growth, creating ideal ecosystem, technological aspects and even infrastructure. We have also responded positively. BTS 2022 will give a new dimension to the technology sector."

Many company CEOs and representatives had stressed on skilled human resources and the State government will work towards it, Bommai said. There is a need for skilled human resources, and to encourage IT-BT, research and startup sectors, the State government is committed to develop basic amenities in Bengaluru, for which the draft plan is ready.

A sum of Rs 8,000 crore has been kept aside for development of basic amenities, which was announced in the budget. After the monsoon, all roads will be developed, and Metro Phase 3, Bengaluru Suburban Rail, Peripheral Ring Road, Satellite Town Ring Road will also be taken up. The government is also setting up facilities under Beyond Bengaluru at Mysuru, Hubballi and other Tier-II cities.

Target $1.5 trillion

IT-BT Minister Dr Ashwath Narayan said they started preparations seven months ahead of BTS 2022, organising events in the US, UK, Japan and other countries to woo them. Karnataka has set a target of contributing $1.5 trillion to make India a $5 trillion economy. Karnataka has drawn the biggest share of 40 per cent of Foreign Direct Investment India drew in the last financial year, amounting to $17.3 billion, he said. Karnataka is at the top spot in exports too, he added.

FUTURISTIC TECH TO TAKE CENTRE STAGE

The next futuristic technologies such as Non Fungible Tokens (NFTs), Web3.0 and Metaverse, apart from IT, and Deeptech will be major highlights at the 25th edition of Bengaluru Tech Summit 2022 (BTS 2022) that will be held physically from November 16-18 at the Bengaluru Palace. Over 300 speakers from 25 countries, 400 exhibitors and more than 300 startups are expected to participate in the event. CM Bommai held a meeting with over 100 CEOs and leaders from Electronics, IT, Biotech and startups on Monday, and invited them to be a part of the BTS. The CEOs shared their ideas to create innovation clusters. They also said that BTS should focus on cutting-edge research and should attract a high-end research pool, better access to risk capital, facilitating global linkages and attracting more GCCs (Gulf Cooperation Council). IT&BT Minister Dr C N Ashwath Narayan said PM Narendra Modi will be invited to inaugurate the summit.

RECRUITMENT SCAM

CID TO QUESTION 545 SUCCESSFUL PSI RECRUITS

BALA CHAUHAN @Bengaluru

THE Police Sub Inspector (PSI) recruitment 2021 scam is turning out to be huge, after five of 11 successful candidates from Jnana Jyothi English Medium School in Kalaburagi were found to have allegedly committed fraud to clear the exam. Sources, on condition of anonymity, told TNIE that five of the 11 OMR (optical mark recognition) sheets of the successful candidates have reportedly been found to be tampered with, by the Forensic Science Laboratory (FSL), Madiwala.

The Criminal Investigation Department (CID) has arrested four of the five candidates, the fifth a woman who is said to be absconding. According to unconfirmed sources, each candidate reportedly paid huge sums of money, ranging from Rs 30 lakh to Rs 40 lakh to clear the exams fraudulently. The main accused and constable Rudragouda Patil was arrested by CID near Solapur last weekend. "He is reportedly the kingpin in the scam," said sources.

The CID has now widened its scope of investigation in the PSI recruitment scam from Kalaburagi to the remaining examination centres in the state. The investigating agency has asked all 545 successful candidates to appear before the Investigating Officer (IO) and submit copies of their OMR sheets for forensic examination, the sources added. "So far, the CID has examined over 250 candidates, and is in the process of sending their OMR sheets to FSL," said informed sources.

The government has come under tremendous scrutiny over this scam. Jnana Jyothi English Medium School in Kalaburagi is owned and operated by Divya Hagaragi, former president of the women's unit of the BJP in Kalaburagi, and her husband, Rajesh Hagaragi. The latter was arrested by the CID while the former has applied for anticipatory bail. The role of six teachers in the school is on the CID radar.

Among the 11 arrested are Rudragouda Patil, the Hagaragi couple, teachers and some other staff members of Jnana Jyothi School; Hayyali Desai, gunman of Afzalpur MLA MY Patil; Chetana Nandagaon, jail warden at Raichur and Afzalpur Block Congress president, and elder brother of prime accused Rudragouda, Mahantesh Patil.

The opposition has demanded a CBI inquiry into the case. Congress leader and KPCC spokesperson Priyank Kharge has sought the resignation of Home Minister Araga Jnanendra.

CID objects to anticipatory bail pleas

RAMKRISHNA BADSESHI @ Kalaburagi

THE Criminal Investigation Department (CID), investigating the PSI CET scam, has submitted an objection to the anticipatory bail of the PSI CET scam's five accused including the alleged kingpin Divya Hagaragi on Monday.

Sources said that former Mahila Morcha chief of Kalaburagi district Divya Hagaragi and also the secretary of Jnana Ganga English Medium School, where the malpractice have taken place, head master of the institution Kashinath, Manjunath Melakundi, Archana and Sunanda had applied for anticipatory bail on Friday.

Objecting to their anticipatory bail petitions, the CID said that the accused may tamper evidence as they are influential persons, and are not cooperating with the investigating agency. The court granted CID time till Wednesday to file the objection after Government Advocate's request since the regular Public Prosecutor is on leave.

Meanwhile, DGP (CID) Pavanjeet Singh Sandhu visited Kalaburagi on Monday and reviewed the progress of the investigation into the scam. He held the meeting with IGP of Northeast Range Manish Kharbikar, Police Commissioner Ravikumar, SP Isha Pant and Investigating Officer of PSI CET Scam. The CID officials have warned the associates of consequences if they try to shelter the absconding accused or help them in any manner.

It is learnt that one of the main accused RD Patil, who is in police custody, has told the police during interrogation that he used to use the mobile of one of his associates Lakshmiputra who died from Covid to talk with the candidates and officials in connection with the scam.

BJP MLC takes govt to task over recruitment

MYSURU: Expressing displeasure over irregularities in PSI recruitment, BJP MLC AH Vishwanath has said that the State Government has failed to hold the process in a transparent way. Speaking to the media here on Monday, Vishwanath said that recruitment exams have lost their sacredness and everything is now dependent on money. "Money is ruling everything. A friend of B Y Vijayendra, son of former Chief Minister BS Yediyurappa, is made a KPSC member. If such people are involved, how can the KPSC be managed properly? Even in the recruitment of assistant professors, Rs 30-40 lakh is demanded from a candidate," he said. He also opined that introducing bulldozer culture in Karnataka is a bad sign. "Who has given the right to take away the rights guara-nteed to people to live peacefully anywhere in the country.," he said. He also hit out at Sri Rama Sene chief Pramod Muthalik for his remark on jewellery shops run by Muslims.

Panel will scrutinise public works worth ₹25 cr

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

A retired judges panel, to be set up by the government, will scrutinise public works worth Rs 25 crore and above, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai told a contractors' delegation, which met him at his home office, Krishna, here on Monday. Earlier, Bommai had stated that the panel would review works worth Rs 50 crore and more, to bring in transparency and check corruption. But office-bearers of the Contractors' Association, led by president D Kempanna, urged Bommai to consider a review of works worth Rs 5 crore by the panel. Bommai, though, turned down the demand for Rs 25 crore and promised to make an amendment to the order.

"We are not satisfied as engineers will call for tenders for Rs 24 crore, and avoid it going for scrutiny. But the CM has promised to fulfil our other demands, including release of funds against works implemented by contractors, based on seniority. If he keeps his promise, we will honour him on May 25, during the contractors' rally," Kempanna told TNIE.

Members of contractors' association submit a memoradum to CM Bommai

One significant decisions is Bommai instructing officials to develop a software that ensures that senior workers get paid. Permitting contractors to take up works worth up to Rs 2 crore by hiring machinery from others, will help small contractors, Kempanna pointed out.

The CM also promised out that giving works under a package will be stopped and instructed officials not to club works at the taluk and district levels, which helps local contractors. "When we raised the issue of 40 per cent commission, and put forth our calculations that it may go up to 42 per cent, the CM did not buy it. But we will be happy if he implements the assurances he made at the meeting," he said.

Corruption part of BJP's DNA, charges Siddaramaiah

BENGALURU: The Congress on Monday hit out at the ruling BJP State Government after the Criminal Investigation Department (CID) probing the irregularities in the recruitment of police sub-inspectors (PSIs) summoned Congress MLA Priyank Kharge to appear before it with evidence. Priyank, a former minister, said, "They have served me with a notice and sought information from me regarding the irregularities.... I understand their modus operandi. Don't they have the information that I have already revealed to the media in the past." Former CM Siddaramaiah said, "The notice to Priyank Kharge by CID police after Karkala Sunil's statement implies that BJP is trying to silence everyone speaking on the PSI scam. Corruption is part of BJP's DNA and no amount of their lies can disprove it. Investigating agencies may be with BJP but the people are with Congress."

Guv nod for criminal proceedings against ex-Congress MLC

YATHIRAJU @ Bengaluru

ACCEPTING the recommendations made by the Lokayukta against former Congress MLC Srikant L Ghotnekar, Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot passed the order to send Lokayukta's report to the competent authorities to initiate criminal proceedings against him and to recover the government's grants he allegedly misused for personal gain with interest.

"Having regard to the facts and circumstances of the case including the findings of Hon'ble Lokayukta, the Competent Authority-Governor satisfied that Srikanth L Ghotnekar and others having secured the grants from the state government for the purpose of construction of Samudaya Bhavana, had diverted the funds/misappropriated the funds for the construction of the school building and misappropriated the same for their personal gain, without utilising it for the purpose for which the amount has been released by the concerned authorities", the Governor said.

SHIVAMOGGA AIRPORT

After BSY says no, debate over other names

MARX TEJASWI @ Shivamogga

WITH former Chief Minister and veteran BJP leader B S Yediyurappa requesting the State Government to drop the decision to name the Shivamogga airport, which is being constructed at Sogane village, after him, several other names, including that of prominent personalities, have come to the fore.

The names being suggested offline and social media now include that of Keladi rulers Shivappa Nayaka and Keladi Channamma, 12th century social reformers Allamaprabhu and Akkamahadevi, who were born in the district, BR Ambedkar, national poet Kuvempu, Sir M Visvesvaraya, Siddaganga mutt pontiff late Shivakumara Swami and others.

Some suggested naming the airport after the Malnad region. As the district is known as the Gateway to Malnad, they suggested naming the airport after the region. Some people want the government to retain the name as Shivamogga airport. While some suggestions are based on the contribution of the great personalities, most of the suggestions are from communities to whom those personalities belonged to but never identified themselves with their respective castes when they were alive. It may be recalled here that the voice to name the airport after Yediyurappa was being heard for quite some time along with names of other great personalities.

> With all humility, I request the government to name the (Shivamogga) airport after any illustrious personality of Karnataka which will be a befitting tribute to their contribution
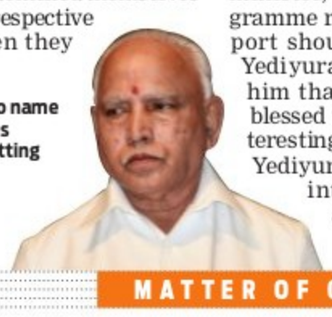
> BS Yediyurappa, former CM and senior BJP leader



The voice got louder when another senior BJP leader KS Eshwarappa, who recently tendered resignation as RDPR minister, suggested in a programme recently that the airport should be named after Yediyurappa as because of him that the city has been blessed with the airport. Interestingly, Eshwarappa and Yediyurappa are known for internal differences among themselves.

UP, MP model to curb riots has worked: Shettar

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Hubballi

SENIOR BJP leader Jagadish Shettar has said that senior leaders of the party will discuss with the State Government on the need to adopt the Uttar Pradesh model to curb riots in Karnataka.

Addressing the media here on Monday, the former chief minister said that though some Karnataka BJP leaders, including ministers, have spoken on the issue, it is Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai who will take a final call.

"The action taken by the Uttar Pradesh and Madhya Pradesh governments seemed to have worked and has improved the law and order situation in those states," he added. Calling the Hubballi violence which erupted over an alleged social media post on the night of April 16, as a preplanned one, he said, "The crowd that gathered in front of the police station was instigated. The incident certainly has brought a bad reputation to the city and such forces need to be curbed."

He also said such violence could affect the overall growth of Hubballi city.

MATTER OF CONCERN

Scams surface, corruption abounds, but Lokayukta post lies vacant

YATHIRAJU @ Bengaluru

THE inaction on the part of the state government in filling the post of Lokayukta, which has been vacant for almost three months, has not only brought proceedings under its jurisdiction to a standstill, but also raised doubts over the delay in appointment.

The post has been vacant since the term of Justice P Vishwanatha Shetty ended on January 27, 2022.

Sources said proceedings against bureaucrats, high-ranking officials and elected representatives in several cases have came to a standstill, as there is no Lokayukta either to nominate Enquiry Officers or to approve the enquiry reports, for the government to take action in cases where the probe is completed. Sources further said that tainted officials on the verge of retirement, or elected representatives whose term is ending, may escape the clutches of law if there is any further delay. On the other hand, in case allegations are not proved in the inquiry, public servants will suffer as their promotion or retirement benefits would be withheld, as the Lokayukta is not there to clear reports.

Besides, there may be people who wish to file complaints with the Lokayukta into the alleged 40 per cent commission scam, to get government works. Commenting on this, former Supreme Court Judge and former Lokayukta Justice N Santosh Hegde said the Lokayukta institution has been weakened, and that is known to everyone. "Of two, one of the important powers to deal with corruption cases under the Prevention of Corruption Act, was withdrawn long ago. Though the Lokayukta post has been vacant for months, no political party has raised the issue. This is like throwing sand into the eyes of the public. If the post is filled, it is a burden for those in power," he said.

He also said that it is known that the Lokayukta's term expires five years from the date of appointment, and if the appointment process is initiated in advance, there is no scope to keep the post vacant. "If the Lokayukta were appointed by now, a suo motu case could have been initiated into the alleged corruption of 40 per cent commission. But the government appointed a commission of inquiry. It reminds me of a statement by a former British Prime Minister, 'If you want to close a scam, appoint a commission of inquiry'." Despite repeated attempts to find out about the process to appoint the Lokayukta, Chief Secretary P Ravikumar did not respond.

AIADMK MLAs led by former Tamil Nadu Chief Minister O Panneerselvam stage a walkout during the Assembly session in Chennai | EXPRESS

TN clips Guv's power to pick V-Cs

State assembly adopts 2 bills by voice vote

T MURUGANANDHAM @ Chennai

THE face-off between the DMK government and the Tamil Nadu Governor reached a new peak on Monday with the State Assembly adopting two Bills to withdraw the Governor's power to appoint vice-chancellors (V-Cs) to 13 States universities. In Gujarat, the government appoints V-Cs, while in Telangana, Karnataka, and Andhra Pradesh, they are appointed with the State government's consent.

The Bill was adopted even as Governor RN Ravi was chairing a two-day conference of V-Cs of State, Central and private universities in Tamil Nadu at Ooty. The AIADMK opposed the Bills right from the introductory stage, and the BJP staged a walk-out in protest. The two Bills - The Tamil Nadu Universities Laws (Amendment) Act, 2022, and the Chennai University Act, 1923 - were adopted by a voice vote.

The legislations seek to give effect to Chief Minister MK Stalin's promise made during the Assembly session in January. He said that previously, V-Cs were appointed in consultation with the State government, but over the past four years, the Governor has been acting as though he has the exclusive rights of appointment.

Stalin also pointed out that in Prime Minister Narendra Modi's home State Gujarat, the State government appoints V-Cs. "The elected government cannot appoint V-Cs now. This goes against democratic principles," the chief minister said.

Stalin also pointed out that the AIADMK government accepted this recommendation in 2017, and last year, it reiterated this view to the Union government.

NPCIL seeks relaxation for handling nuclear spent fuel

SV KRISHNA CHAITANYA @ Chennai

With the construction of Away from Reactor (AFR) for Kudankulam nuclear power plant's units 1 and 2 in limbo, the Nuclear Power Corporation of India Limited (NPCIL) on Monday sought some relaxations before the Supreme Court for handling spent nuclear fuel.

Due to protests, Tamil Nadu Pollution Control Board (TNPCB) had to indefinitely postpone the public hearing of AFR for units 1 and 2 without which environmental clearance from the Union environment ministry can't be obtained. AFR facility is critical for storing the nuclear spent fuel. The supreme court deadline for construction of AFR for 1 and 2 units ends this month's end.

So, NPCIL had requested the apex court for extension till 2026. Besides, it has also sought permission to use the AFR of units 3 and 4 for which clearance has been given to store the spent fuel of units 1 and 2.

As per the submission made by NPCIL, unit-1 can continue to operate at 100% capacity up to November 2026 and unit-2 can operate upto July 2028, considering full capacity utilisation of respective fuel pools. Thereafter, the operation would stop as per Atomic Energy Regulatory Board (AERB) procedures, if AFR facility is not available.

In this context, NPCIL has sought to use AFR of units 3-4, whose construction is expected to commence soon. The work order was awarded to L&T on December 4, 2021. "The construction will commence on priority after the approval of construction consent application by AERB," officials said.

NPCIL told the Supreme Court that fuel of Kudankulam units 1 to 6 is similar and accordingly the AFR design is the same.

No HC relief for ex-officer of Tumakuru SP office

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court dismissed a petition filed by M Krishnappa, a retired Assitant Administrative Officer of Tumakuru District Police, questioning the criminal proceedings initiated against him over alleged misuse and siphoning of the travelling allowance (TA) amount.

In the petition, Krishnappa questioned the criminal proceedings pending before the trial court in Tumakuru. He contended that he is the complainant in the case and he has been made an accused in the impugned proceedings.

IN THE HC

Referring to the statement of the first accused, Justice M Nagaprasanna noted that the contention of the counsel is that the petitioner is the complainant and he cannot be made an accused.

The petitioner has not placed any such material that is so unimpeachable that would warrant interference with further proceedings against the petitioner, said the Justice. The petition was dismissed as the council could not find any merit in it.

The first accused ST Yashashwini alleged that SR Puttaradhya, who was the Section Superintendent in the office of the superintendent of police and fourth accused M Krishnappa instructed her to pay excess TA to 14 police personnel. Later, they had allegedly instructed her to speak to them over the phone and get back the excess amount paid. Both Puttaradhya and Krishnappa got Rs 5 lakh and 4 lakh, respectively, from Yashashwini.

2 SUVS RECOVERED

10 held for targeting jewellers on highways

ENS @ Bengaluru

A gang of 10 Kerala-based dacoits, who were targeting jewellers on highways, have been arrested by the Bengaluru rural district police based on a complaint by a 60-year-old accountant of a Kerala based jeweller near Nadgir College at Madavara on the Bengaluru-Tumakuru Highway.

The gang would hire SUVs from Kerala and commit dacoities across the state by changing the vehicles' registration number plates.

They had escaped with Rs 1 crore in cash along with other valuables from the victims.

The police checked footage of over 250 CCTVs on the highways, toll plazas. "We found that the gang had abandoned the complainant's car on the Bengaluru-Hassan Road. They then travelled via Nagamangala, Mysuru and Chamarajanagar. They have changed the SUV registration number from Karnataka RTO to Kerala RTO at Chamarajanagar toll plaza. The team then went to Coimbatore, Palakkad, Ernakulam and other places in Kerala to collect more information of the gang," said an officer.

The main accused Sridhar alias Kodali Sridhar from Kerala, who is on the run, has escaped with Rs 90 lakh in cash.

On March 11 between 6.10 am and 6.15 am, the accused had robbed J Franklin, the accountant, a resident of Konam village at Kanyakumari while he was returning with his other colleagues after collecting cash from the jewellery buyers at Hubballi. Franklin had filed a complaint with the Madanayakanahalli police. Two SUVs and Rs 9.7 lakh in cash and other valuables have been recovered from the accused.

MARKET REALITIES CATCH UP WITH GOVT ON LIC IPO

The government has finally bitten the bullet and realigned its expectation with market sentiments when it comes to pricing the share sale offer of Life Insurance Corporation (LIC) of India. It had expected to raise ₹60,000–65,000 crore by selling 5% stake in the public sector life insurer. But it seems the market realities have caught up with it, and the government has reduced the valuation of the life insurance company by almost half. It has been learnt by this newspaper that the government has now valued LIC at ₹6 lakh crore—1.1 times the embedded value of ₹5.4 lakh crore. This is much lower than the valuation of already listed life insurance companies such as SBI Life, ICICI Prudential and HDFC Life, which were listed at three to four times their embedded value—a valuation method to measure life insurance companies.

Based on those valuations, the market was abuzz at one point of time that the government may price LIC shares upwards of ₹2,000. Large investors like mutual funds had doubted that LIC could command these kinds of valuations. Some had even told this newspaper that the government may need to rework LIC's embedded value. Large and institutional investors are key to the success of any IPO as they pick up a major portion of the shares on offer. But they were not too impressed with return ratios, which they think are sub-par. The geopolitical tensions further queered the pitch for LIC. The war between Ukraine and Russia forced the government to delay the listing, which was supposed to be completed by March. And while the war continues to be fought, the market sentiments have forced the government to rethink not just LIC's valuation but also the quantum of dilution of its stakes. Now the government seems to be going ahead only with 3.5% stake sale instead of the 5% announced earlier.

The issue prices and dates will be announced this week, and then we will know how much has the government compromised on the revenue target from the much-awaited disinvestment of LIC.

HOLISTIC ACTION FOR TN EDU MALAISE

As unsavoury tales of teachers being threatened, attacked and abused by students in schools made headlines, Tamil Nadu School Education Minister Anbil Mahesh Poyyamozhi candidly admitted he was pained by the behaviour of students both as a father and a minister.

Three instances stood out. In the first case, a botany teacher at a school located near Ambur was abused and threatened by a student in a classroom when he was asked to submit his record work. In the second incident, a group of boys and girls in school uniforms were seen drinking liquor in a bus in a video clip that went viral. The Chengalpattu district police said the students belonged to a government school. In the third case, three Class IX students of a government school near Rasipuram in Namakkal district were dismissed after they made fun of a visually challenged teacher while he was taking class.

Troubled by these rogueries, teachers raise some pertinent questions. How can we ensure 100% pass and 100% attendance in classes if we don't enforce 100% discipline? Does the responsibility of correcting such wayward behaviour lie only with teachers? What is the role of parents and society at large? The minister said the state would conduct counselling sessions for both teachers and students. "Students went through a lot of trouble during the pandemic," he said. But the malaise may be running deeper and could need a more comprehensive remedial action from all stakeholders.

The state has started constituting School Management Committees (SMCs) in every institution under the Nam Palli Nam Perumai (Our School, Our Pride) scheme. At least 5.74 lakh parents came together to choose members of these committees in 6,849 middle schools. Under the RTE Act, the SMCs, among other things, must ensure teachers hold regular meetings with parents and guardians and apprise them about attendance, progress made in learning and any other relevant information about the child. They must also ensure enrolment and continued attendance of all children. Parents of government school students too must be encouraged to participate in the holistic development of children. The SMCs may be the first step, but there is an urgent need to make it a people's movement.

India has consolidated its position in the global markets for rice and wheat and its exports are rising. But this is where the good news ends

CHALLENGES FOR INDIA'S AGRI EXPORTS

BISWAJIT DHAR

India's merchandise exports reached a milestone in 2021–22, crossing the $400 billion mark for the first time. Provisional figures peg exports at nearly $420 billion, over 27% higher than the previous peak of $330 billion reached in 2018–19. What is remarkable about the export performance is that every major sector of the economy has made a definitive contribution to this burgeoning export basket. In agriculture, several non-traditional commodities have led the export surge. For instance, non-basmati rice and wheat have seen record levels of exports. Recently, non-basmati exports were a third to one-half of India's rice exports, but in 2021–22, this had increased to nearly two-thirds. Wheat exports were $60 million in 2019–20, but in the previous fiscal, they were over $2 billion.

India has, thus, consolidated its position in the global markets for these commodities. According to data provided by the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA), India's share in global exports of rice has increased from about 22% in 2018–19 to 40% in 2021–22. In the case of wheat, India's share now stands at 5% as against 0.3% in 2019–20. Equally impressive is the increase in India's share in sugar exports, which has increased to over 11% as against 3.4% in 2017–18. Record levels of food grains output expected for the seventh consecutive year could push agricultural exports even higher this year.

This is where the good news ends, as India's agricultural exports are under intense scrutiny in the World Trade Organization (WTO). In 2019, Australia, Brazil, and Guatemala complained to WTO's dispute settlement body that the Central government was implementing several subsidy schemes for promoting sugar exports. The complainants argued that by implementing these subsidy schemes, the government had violated the rules of WTO's Agreement on Agriculture (AoA), which prohibit the use of export subsidies. In December 2021, the dispute settlement panel adjudicating on the dispute gave its ruling against India.

There is a much bigger problem. During the deliberations in the WTO's Committee on Agriculture, several countries, including Japan, Russia and the US, have sought clarifications from India as to whether its exports of food grains are in any way linked to the Open Market Sales Scheme of the Food Corporation of India.

These questions have been asked as AoA imposes strict disciplines on countries implementing domestic food security programmes using public stockholding of food grains, as for example, India's public distribution system (PDS). Such countries are allowed to acquire and release food grains at administered prices (or minimum support prices/ MSP as in India), but they can only do so when they include the difference between the acquisition price of food grains and their "external reference prices", namely, the international prices prevailing during 1986–88, in their subsidies' bill. According to the AoA, subsidies that developing countries like India provide cannot exceed 10% of their value of agricultural production. This implies if India's food subsidies provided through the PDS are taken together with those granted to farmers in the form of MSP and input assistance, its subsidies bill will surely exceed the 10% threshold.

> India's agricultural exports are under intense scrutiny in the WTO. During the deliberations in the Committee on Agriculture, several countries sought clarifications from India as to whether its exports of food grains are in any way linked to the Open Market Sales Scheme of the FCI

The provisions in the AoA regarding public stockholding are patently illogical on at least two counts. First, minimum support prices that India currently gives on identified products are compared with their international prices prevailing during 1986–88 to measure the extent of subsidies granted. India has been arguing that this criterion needs to be amended, either by selecting "external reference prices" of a more recent period, or by accounting for commodity price inflation. Secondly, including food subsidies granted to the undernourished and production-related subsidies to the farmers in a single discipline makes little sense. This is one of the glaring examples of how the European Union and the US wrote the WTO rules on agriculture that discriminate against the interests of developing countries.

It was fairly obvious from the day the then government decided to implement the National Food Security Act (NFSA) and to provide subsidised food to almost two-thirds of the country's population that AoA's rules on public stockholding are against India's interests. However, in the Bali Ministerial Conference in 2013, WTO members took a decision that even if India breaches the subsidy threshold of 10% while implementing the NFSA, no dispute would be initiated, at least for the time being. This so-called "peace clause" was confirmed in 2015, and it allows implementation of the NFSA until a "permanent solution" is found to firewall India's PDS from AoA rules. However, the "peace clause" includes a condition, namely, publicly held stocks should not be used to "distort trade or adversely affect the food security of other Members", in other words, India cannot export from these stocks. Interestingly, as India's food grains exports have increased, so has the scrutiny by other WTO members. The government needs a well-considered strategy to meet this challenge.

A ROUTE MAP TO IMPROVE OUR CARE FOR THE ELDERLY

DR DEBANJAN BANERJEE

Consultant Geriatric Psychiatrist, Apollo Multispeciality Hospitals, Kolkata

Our world is facing a rapid population ageing. The number of individuals above 60 years is at an all-time high and estimated to reach 2.1 billion by 2050. Increased life expectancy and improved healthcare services contribute to this demographic transition. Worldwide researches such as the Study on Global AGEing and Adult Health (SAGE) and The Global Ageing Survey have shown changing attitudes, expectations and behaviours towards later life and retirement. This brings us to a vital question—are we prepared to care for our ageing population?

Once equated with frailty, disease and other negative connotations, narratives around old age are now changing. 'Healthy ageing' forms the core of preventive medicine and is defined by the WHO as "the process of developing and maintaining the functional ability that enables wellbeing in older age." Functional ability means the capabilities that enable people to be and do what they value. The concept of healthy ageing is to be incorporated in medical and social services alike and affects 'elder care'.

Elder/aged care serves the needs and requirements of older persons. It consists of a huge range of services such as home care, hospice care, nursing home (residential care), long-term care, adult daycare and assisted living. While the form and context of care varies across cultures and nations, the central principle stays the same—personal and social requirements of older persons who wish to age with dignity and human rights while needing assistance with daily activities or/ and healthcare.

Traditionally, family members were responsible for providing care to their older members, sometimes within the extended family home. Globally, there have been changes in elder care and responsibilities due to shrinking families, longer life expectancy, geographical dispersion, difference in generation dynamics and influences of culture. Usually government-run elder care is rare in many Asian nations, where they are still expected to be taken care of by their families. On the other hand, in many Western countries, the common care facilities for older people are free-standing assisted living facilities, residential family care homes, nursing homes and continuing care retirement communities. The type and timing of care, finances and duration are often determined by the age of retirement, pension plan and social security benefits of the old age, awareness of legal provisions and respect for human rights. While familial bonds are thought to be stronger in developing nations, financial independence and policy benefits are considered to be the mainstay for developed countries. Let's look at the state of elder care in some parts of the world.

The US and UK: Western cultures are known to be youth-centric, stressing on independence and individualism. A person's value is often linked to his/ her ability to work, which diminishes with age. Nearly 22% of the medical expenses of a person in the US happens during the late years of their life. Many older adults choose assisted living, home care services or respite care. Though the lack of familial care with increasing age is often criticised in both these countries, the government assumes added responsibilities through social care benefits. The number of retirement communities is growing in these countries.

Canada: Private for-profit and not-for-profit elder care exist in the country but some services are subsidised by the health ministry. In public elder care homes, the older people pay on a sliding scale, based on their pre-retirement income.

France: Elderly rights law is the strongest among Western cultures. France has a unique legal decree requiring its citizens to take care of their parents and older patients. The crux is that it's rarely implemented.

China: Eastern cultures such as China's adhere to the Confucian tradition of "filial piety," which prioritises the family unit and values elders with utmost respect. However, with industrialisation, family dynamics are changing. A recent elderly rights law that makes neglecting older parents punishable provides hope.

Korea and Japan: They potentially set an example for elder care and are also faced with a rapid ageing population. Legal provisions are strong and 'ageing' is also celebrated socially.

South Asia: Traditional values demand honour and respect for older persons and equate old age with wisdom and experience. Certain legal provisions mandate protection and maintenance of parents and senior citizens (in India), and social security benefits (India, Nepal, Bangladesh)—however the practical implementation is rarely smooth.

Though legal provisions, financing and responsibilities of elder care vary, they are connected by the common ominous thread of ageism, stigma, misinformation and the lack of respect for human rights. The recent Global Report on Ageism, released by the WHO, shows that one in every two individuals worldwide bear ageist tendencies. The ongoing Covid-19 pandemic has only widened these health inequalities in older persons. We should remember that the right to health is fundamental and age cannot be an exception. Also medical and psychological-social care in older persons need integration.

Promoting independence, autonomy, dignity, respect and shared decision-making are the central principles of healthcare for older persons. Improving physical and personal mobility will help them gain confidence and providing legal protection services would aid social causes. Increased life expectancy and improved healthcare services contribute to this demographic transition. Financial protection is imperative and abuse of the elderly needs to be prevented at all costs. Health workers, media and policymakers need to be sensitised about these nuances of elder care.

One of the best ways to go forward is strengthening intergenerational bonds (between ageing parents, adult children and grandchildren) through quality time. Establishing intergenerational relationships allows both groups to learn about each other's differences and similarities while building relational capacity and a sense of fulfilment. Some of the ways could be: participating in family rituals, sharing stories, teaching new skills, reading/ singing together, playing games, gardening, etc.

How we care for older people today decides how we will be treated tomorrow.

Dangerous trend

The bulldozer has become the symbol of majoritarian politics. The recent demolition of alleged unauthorised constructions of rioters belonging to a community in some states without following due procedures is illegal. The rioters should be dealt with only as per provisions of law. Now, the Karnataka revenue minister has called for the use of bulldozers against alleged rioters in the state. This is a dangerous trend and should be nipped in the bud.

Bullying voters

I fail to understand why the Election Commission did not take note of the presence of bulldozers during the poll campaign in Uttar Pradesh. Since the EC failed to take this seriously, now every BJP-ruled state is using the construction equipment prominently, so much so that a party leader in Madhya Pradesh lined up several bulldozers outside his residence along with a hoarding that called the state's chief minister "Bulldozer Mama". The poll panel should take action as other parties might also start using such symbols to bully voters or their opponents.

Kishor's entry imminent

This is with reference to The Congress' Prashant Kishor conundrum (Apr 25). Though many leaders are suspicious of his credentials, with Sonia Gandhi batting for him, Kishor's entry into the grand old party appears imminent. Once he joins the party, he cannot be a freelancer and should dedicate himself fully to bringing about a turnaround in the Congress fortunes. Anyway, Kishor has garnered maximum media attention in the process and can be an asset for the Congress. Who knows, perhaps he can very well turn out to be a matchwinner for the party.

KCR should act now

This is with reference to TRS should keep cadre in check (Apr 25). In the past, there was a time when the TRS chief was very cosy with the saffron party and the Centre. When the BJP slowly gained a foothold in Telangana by winning the elections and replaced the Congress as the main opposition, the TRS started considering it a threat. Slowly the saffron party became the arch-enemy. The editorial has rightly pointed out that unless the TRS leadership reins in the party cadre, the good schemes begun by KCR to benefit the people would be of no use.

Take care of temple region

I want to draw your attention to one of the most frequented and revered places of worship in Thiruvananthapuram, the Parashurama temple in Thiruvallam. This is a place for Balitharpanum, for the loved ones who have left for their heavenly abode. The area around the temple, the roads and the water body are in a dismal state, and there is garbage everywhere. The water flowing through River Karamana, adjacent to the temple, is dirty. Considering that it is a place that has both religious and archaeological significance, the city corporation should take special care of the area.

'Opposition unity must be on basis of equality of all parties'

HIS most prominent years may have been spent as a member of the Vajpayee cabinet (1998-2004), where he reprised his 1990 role as Finance Minister before going on to handle the External Affairs Ministry. But ever since he quit the BJP in 2018, the former bureaucrat has been a staunch critic of the saffron party. After a brief break from formal politics, Yashwant Sinha joined the Trinamool Congress in 2021 and is now one of the key Opposition strategists as the country moves towards a tumultuous political phase in the run-up to 2024. In an interview with Rajesh Kumar Thakur, he answers questions on Opposition politics, secularism, and India's foreign relations. Excerpts:

The general perception is that the Modi dispensation is too strong to be unseated in 2024. Do you agree?

The upcoming Lok Sabha election will not be a cakewalk for the BJP as it is being perceived by the ruling dispensation and its allies. The country is boiling in anger against inflation, unemployment, divisive politics, hatred and socio-political acrimony. But yes, to defeat the BJP, coordinated efforts are required.

The TMC chief, Mamata Banerjee, wants to lead the Opposition by claiming the centrality the Congress once claimed on the non-BJP side. But the Congress is adamant about not ceding the leadership position. How then can the Opposition manage a coordinated effort?

The Opposition does not lack unity per se. It's just that individual parties have different views and priorities. That's natural. I think all parties in the Opposition can and should come together with one common agenda on which there's consensus: defeating the BJP in 2024. And unity in the Opposition needs to be on the basis of equality of all parties. I think Mamata Banerjee is competent enough to lead the Opposition. She carries the image of a strong secular leader.

One notable event here relates to poll strategist Prashant Kishor -- he is said to be joining the Congress. Very recently, till the Goa election, he has also worked for your party. What would you have to say on him?

I would not like to say anything on him. I have a very good personal relation with him but he seems to be a man of high political ambitions. He is just a political consultant but wants to be a political executive.

Do you think India is going in the right direction under the Modi government?

India is being misled by the misplaced trust of people in the BJP government, even when it has embarked on the 'weaponisation' of religion. The recent series of incidents will have very many side-effects, and ultimately aggravate unemployment in an already inflationary scenario, which may result in total systemic chaos.

How about foreign relations? What do you make of India's stand on the conflict between Russia and Ukraine?

Kuchh sahi aur kuchh galat (a little right and a little wrong). There is no doubt that Russia has always been an all-weather friend of India. A good friend's duty is to point out the faults of his friend. India should be more proactive in playing the role of a neutral arbitrator — we must aspire to that global role if we really want to become 'Vishwaguru'. But sorry to say, till now, India has failed in taking a global lead.

How do you see it impacting Sino-Indo relations?

There would be no immediate impact. China too has come out openly in support of Russia out of its domestic concerns and foreign policy. If India continues supporting Russia silently, as it is doing now, then the world will get the impression that India has sided with the dictatorship of Russia along with another 'dictator' country like China.

What impact do you foresee on the world as well as on Indian economy due to the Ukraine war?

If this prolongs further, there will be disastrous and cascading impacts on the global as well as Indian economies. The price of petroleum crude will skyrocket and India will have to face its direct impact in terms of inflationary pressures.

The economies Sri Lanka and Pakistan, have almost collapsed. Is it a wake-up call for India?

Faulty policies have resulted in the massive crises in both Sri Lanka and Pakistan. Compared to them, India's economy is not in such a bad condition. We have more than $600 billion in foreign reserves. The Indian economy is nowhere near being in the pink of health though — the present government's policies have devastated it.

Do you think the change of guard in Pakistan holds out any chance of bilateral relations improving?

As of now, I don't see any light at the end of the tunnel. Pakistan's and India's foreign policies are more or less linked with domestic politics. So, Pakistan can't be expected to work on a positive note.

Ukraine conflict will impact Indo-Pacific: EU chief

Says response to the war will decide the future of global system and economy

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

WHAT happens in Ukraine will have an impact on the Indo-Pacific region, said EU Commission's president Ursula von der Leyen while addressing the seventh Raisina Dialogue here on Monday.

"Countries battered by the pandemic now must deal with rising prices for grain, energy and fertilisers as a result of it. Our response to Russia's war will decide the future of our global system and economy," Leyen added.

She went on to add that Europe will make sure that Russia's 'unprovoked and unjustified" aggression against Ukraine will be a "strategic failure".

In her address in the presence of Prime Minister Narendra Modi, the visiting leader wondered about the "new international relations" that both China and Russia have called for after announcing their "no-limits" friendship.

She, however, said the European Union would encourage Beijing to play its part in a peaceful and thriving Indo-Pacific. "We want a peaceful and prosperous Indo-Pacific. It must be free, open, interconnected, prosperous, with a rules-based security architecture that serves all interests," Leyen said at the inaugural session of the Dialogue jointly hosted by MEA and Observer Research Foundation.

Earlier, Leyen met with Prime Minister Narendra Modi where they established the India-EU Trade and Technology Council (TTC). The TTC is a first for India but second for the EU as it has already established one with the US.

"Delighted to hold talks with the President of EU Commission. We reviewed the full range of India EU ties including economic and cultural linkages," said PM Modi. Modi and Leyen also discussed the strong cooperation on climate change between the two sides.

PM likely to meet re-elected Macron in France next week

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi is expected to meet Emmanuel Macron, who has been re-elected as French president, in Paris next week.

France is one of India's most strategic partners and Macron and Modi share a good rapport. "Congratulations to my friend Emmanuel Macron on being re-elected as the President of France! I look forward to continue working together to deepen the India-France Strategic Partnership," PM Modi tweeted after the French election results were announced.

Even though India has taken a different stance from France on the ongoing Ukraine conflict, any major changes in the bilateral relations are unlikely when the duo meets this time. The talks are likely to focus on trade and Indo-Pacific.

From manufacturing air-independent propulsion submarines and high- thrust aircraft engines to the mapping of the Indian Ocean bed, there is a long list of collaborations between the two nations.

When Macron visited India in 2018 he had said, "I think we have very good chemistry, our two great democracies have a historic relationship."

PM Modi had received Macron at the airport, exchanging warm hugs and handshakes.

France is a big gateway for India to access Europe. Besides, both countries are eager to strengthen their defence and security ties.

In the Ministerial Forum for Cooperation in the Indo-Pacific held in Paris in February, MEA Jaishankar had said the promise maintaining a regional order in the Indo-Pacific with France was a critical bridge to connect Europe with India.

'India ranks 3rd in global military expenditure'

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

WHILE India is focusing on decreasing its dependence on import of military equipment, the country has been included in the list of nations which have spent most on their military.

The Stockholm International Peace Research Institute (SIPRI) in its data on global military-spending published on Monday says, "The five largest spenders in 2021 were the United States, China, India, the United Kingdom and Russia, together accounting for 62 per cent of expenditure, according to new data on global military spending."

SIPRI, a Sweden- based think tank, says total global military expenditure increased by 0.7 per cent in real terms in 2021, to reach $2,113 billion.

While the world military spending continued to grow in 2021, for the seventh consecutive year, reaching an all-time high of $2.1 trillion, "India's military spending of $76.6 billion ranked third highest in the world. This was up by 0.9 per cent from 2020 and by 33 per cent from 2012," says SIPRI.

Although the Covid pandemic crippled economic activities across the globe, it did not affect the expenditure on the military. "Even amid the economic fallout of the Covid-19 pandemic, world military-spending hit record levels," says Dr Diego Lopes da Silva, senior researcher with SIPRI's Military Expenditure and Arms Production Programme.

India's defence budget for the financial year 2022-23 is ₹5,25,166 crore. This is an increase of ₹46,970 crores over last year's ₹4,78,196 crore and includes pensions too.

HC notice to Pilot camp MLAs in 2-yr-old plea

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

THE Rajasthan High Court has issued notices to 18 Congress MLAs, including Sachin Pilot, on a two-year-old petition challenging the notice issued by Assembly Speaker under the anti-defection law during their rebellion against the Ashok Gehlot government. The court has sought their response by May 25.

In July 2020, while holding the posts of party president and deputy CM, Pilot, along with 18 Congress MLAs, had rebelled against the government. During the rebellion, Speaker CP Joshi issued notices to the rebel MLAs under the anti-defection law. PR Meena, on behalf of the Pilot camp, had challenged this notice in the high court. Later in August 2020, the Pilot camp and CM Gehlot's camp reconciled.

Despite reconciliation, the petition in connection with the notice has been remaining pending in the high court.

Among the MLAs who have been issued notices, five are ministers. They include ministers Vishvendra Singh, Hemaram Chaudhary, Ramesh Meena, Brijendra Ola, and Murarilal Meena.

During the hearing on Monday, it was argued that all the rebel MLAs have returned to the Congress party and many of them have also become ministers in the Gehlot cabinet. So, there is no point in pursuing the case. Upon this, the high court has asked the legislators to file their response.

IN SUPREME COURT

'Will hear petitions against Article 370 repeal after vacation'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Monday agreed to consider listing the petitions challenging the constitutional validity of the Centre's decision to abrogate Article 370 in Jammu and Kashmir for hearing after the summer vacation.

Senior advocate Shekhar Naphade orally mentioned the matter before a bench headed by Chief Justice of India NV Ramana, saying it required urgent listing as the delimitation exercise was going on in J&K. The CJI responded "Let me see... after summer vacations, I'll have to discuss with the other judges... will have to constitute the bench," the CJI said.

The top court agreed to reconstitute the bench to hear pleas after the summer vacation. One of the five judges on the Bench, Justice R Subhash Reddy, had retired in January. The bench headed by CJI Ramana comprises Justices Sanjay Kishan Kaul, B R Gavai and Surya Kant.

The Supreme Court's summer break is scheduled from May 23 to July 11.

Several petitions challenging the abrogation of Article 370 and the bifurcation of Jammu and Kashmir into two Union Territories were referred to a Constitution Bench headed by Justice Ramana in 2019 by the then CJI Ranjan Gogoi.

Two years ago, the top court had refused to refer the pleas to a larger bench of seven judges, saying the constitution bench would keep hearing the case on merit.

The petitions were filed by various stakeholders including private individuals, lawyers, activists and political parties.

Centre's response sought on PIL seeking 'Judicial Vista'

New Delhi: The Supreme Court Monday asked the Central government to explain its stand on a plea seeking direction to develop a 'Judicial Vista' on the land adjoining the present premises of the top court. A division bench said the apex court needs proper infrastructure to carry out its judicial functions. "... Judicial Vista in a planned way is a logical and correct thing," the court orally said. The PIL filed by advocate Ardhendumauli Kumar Prasad said it has been filed in the interest of infrastructural independence of judiciary by the establishment of an independent central authority under the administration of the CJI. It has sought the construction of a large multi-level complex of courtrooms with 45 to 50 courtrooms with video conferencing facilities and adequate seating facilities for lawyers, litigants, law clerks, and interns. Centre gags more YouTube channels, one FB page for spreading 'false news'

PARVEZ SULTAN @ New Delhi

THE government continues with its crackdown on online video-sharing and social media platforms spreading false news. The I&B Ministry said on Monday that 16 YouTube news channels and one Facebook page stand blocked.

The government has accused the news outlets of running unverified information to create panic, incite communal disharmony and disturbing public order. Of the blocked channels, 10 are based in India and six being operated from Pakistan. Their cumulative viewership is said to be 68 crore.

The action against social media accounts and YouTube channels running fake news began in December. Since then, the government has blocked more than 90 channels and social media networking accounts.

"Utilizing the emergency powers under the IT Rules, 2021, the ministry of I&B, 2021, vide two separate orders on April 22, issued directions for blocking of 16 YouTube news channels and one Facebook account," said the ministry.

None of the blocked digital news publishers had furnished information to the ministry as required under the IT rules.

The content published by Indian YouTube channels referred to a community as terrorists and incited hatred among members of various religious communities. Such content was found to have the potential to create communal disharmony.

"Multiple India-based YouTube channels were observed to publish unverified news and videos having the potential to create panic. Examples include false claims related to announcement of a pan-India lockdown due to Covid-19, thereby threatening the migrant workers. Such content was observed to be detrimental to public order in the country," read a statement issued by the ministry.

VANDE BHARAT TRAINS

Rlys to airlift wheels built by Ukrainian firm

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

INDIA is taking its 'neutrality' in the Russia-Ukraine conflict quite seriously, it seems. While Russian oil is fuelling cars and other vehicles running on Indian roads, trains in the country will be running on Ukrainian wheels.

The Indian Railways is rushing to airlift train wheels from a Ukrainian factory before the deadline for conducting the trials of the advanced version of the express train in the next few months.

Railway sources said soon after the Russian invasion, the Ukrainian factory managed to move a consignment of nearly 128 wheels — being manufactured for Vande Bharat trains — to neighbouring Romania by road. The Railway Ministry, in coordination with the Ministry of External Affairs, is working to airlift all the 128 rail wheels from Romania by the first week of the next month.

The railways had placed the orders for 35,000 wheels worth $16 million

The supply of these wheels was struck. The Ukrainian manufacturing unit has sent our consignment by road to Romania, where we are considering airlifting it soon — Senior railway official

"The supply of these wheels was struck. The Ukrainian manufacturing unit has sent our consignment by road to Romania, where we are considering airlifting it soon," said a senior railway official.

The railways has announced operation of 75 Vande Bharat express trains on prominent routes by 2022. To meet the deadline, the railways has placed other import orders for the rail wheels with Czech Republic, Poland and the US, in addition to the Ukrainian factory, after considering the technical modalities for a Vande Bharat train.

The railways had placed the orders for 35,000 wheels worth $16 million with the Ukrainian firm, which is one of the 20 big manufacturers of train wheels in the world. Sources said the scheduled operation of 75 Vande Bharat trains would not be disturbed as the railway is working on an alternative plan to meet the deadline.

Nadda trip to resolve R'than feud

BJP chief will be on a two-day visit to state next month with the mission to check infighting

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR
@ New Delhi

BJP national president Jagat Prakash Nadda will be on a two-day visit to Rajasthan next month with the mission to check the infighting, factionalism and leadership tussle in the state unit. The visit was scheduled after the party's Rajasthan unit leaders met him recently in Delhi.

According to sources, during his proposed trip on May 10-11, Nadda is likely to visit Suratgarh and Hanumangarh for party related works. "The main issue before Nadda right now is to end the factionalism and infighting among the state leaders, particularly the Vasundhara Raje and Satish Punia camps," a senior leader said.

The infighting has demoralised the BJP cadres and "it is imperative for our national president to visit regularly and take charge all matters", said the source.

Besides addressing the internal squabbles, re-invigorating the party's electoral machinery ahead of next year's Assembly polls will also be on Nadda's agenda, according to party sources. He is expected to give a pep talk to the party cadres and exhort them to expose the faultlines in the ruling Congress more aggressively on all public and social platforms, source hinted.

"There are about 21 months in our hand to raise issues against the Congress government which is working on anti-Hindutava agenda and overlooking development. That would be our main poll planks," said a senior BJP leader.

Besides, the BJP chief will also look to launch the party's outreach to various sections. There are six prominent schedule tribes in Rajashthan who play a crucial role in deciding the electoral prospects of a party. "With a view to bring them in favour of the party, the BJP has planned a wider outreach to ST voters through development and the renewed Hindutava issues," a BJP source said.

Riot accused in CM's Iftar party

Jaipur: An Iftar party thrown by Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot which was attended by a prime accused in the communal violence that erupted in Jhalawar district last year has kicked up a storm. The opposition BJP has latched on to Asif Asadi's presence at the party and claims it reflects the appeasement policy of the Gehlot government. BJP MLA from Jhalawar, Pratap Singh Singhvi, said that Asif Asadi and councillor Hassan Khan were the main accused in the riots and arson in the town on April 11, 2021. According to sources, Hassan was also present at the party along with Asif, and both had received invitation from the Chief Minister's Office. — ENS

FLEXING MUSCLE

CENTRAL LEADERS MUST ENSURE I REMAIN IN CONGRESS: HARDIK

FROM a spearhead of the Patidar movement that gave restless nights to the BJP in 2016-17 to his joining the Congress in 2019, Hardik Patel knows how to keep parties on tenterhooks. A few days back, he expressed his resentment against state Congress leadership and called himself a Hinduwadi leader, triggering speculation about his loyalty switch, before asserting that joining the BJP was "out of the question". In an interview to Dilip Singh Kshatriya, the Patidar leader talks about his objections to the "restructuring" of the state Congress. Excerpts:

What is your resentment against Congress?
My resentment is against the state leadership, not against the central leadership. I have built my political and social life among the common people -- my family is not political; my father is not a legislator. I am a self-made man. My goal is to make room for "good people", not for "my people". If I am the working president of Congress, then the state leadership must give me some responsibility. For instance, I should be given the charge of any zone of Gujarat, the way Congress does in other states.

Have you discussed your grievances with Gujarat leaders?
I have told them to harness my strengths properly. My question to them is: Are leaders meant to be clicked for photographs for attending events? I have a team of leaders that's ready to fight on issues. Not only me, but the second-rung leadership at local level is also facing the same problem. Good and hardworking people should have been given place during the recent state Congress restructuring. Instead, they have 'my' and 'your' people.

What did you tell the party high command?
I spoke to Rahul Gandhi. He asked me to meet K C Venugopal who agreed with me, saying my responsibility should be fixed. But, the state leadership didn't do anything. I've told Rahul, Priyanka and Venugopal that I do not want to be like other politicians who express resentment first and then take the big post.

There are rumors you are joining BJP.
I'd say BJP has a good sense of decision-making. This has created an impression that I'm going to join BJP. Some have surmised that I'd join Aam Aadmi Party. These are all rumours. No Congress leader has ever discussed 32 cases registered against Hardik Patel and what can be done to help him. The party hasn't even helped me with a lawyer to fight the cases.

Answer in one line: are you going to join BJP?
I am in Congress currently. I hope the central leaders find a way so that I continue to remain in the Congress. There are others who want Hardik to leave the Congress. They want to break my morale.

Which state leaders are bothering you?
Rahul Gandhi says those who want to leave the Congress may leave. But the state leadership cannot talk like that. You have heard Gujarat Congress chief Jagdish Thakor and state party in-charge Dr Raghu Sharma talking in Rahul's language. What happens if everyone leaves the party?

Have you met Arvind Kejriwal?
I met him when I was agitating for the Patidar reservation. He had supported my movement. I haven't met him since 2019.

Are you contesting the assembly elections?
Yes, now that the Supreme Court has given me relief. I'll fight elections 100 per cent.

From which party?
I have said what I had to say.

Court no to withdrawal of case against Hardik

Ahmedabad: A metropolitan magistrate court in Ahmedabad in Gujarat on Monday rejected the state government's plea for the withdrawal of a case of rioting and trespassing against Hardik Patel and 20 others. Metropolitan magistrate V D Mod rejected the state government's plea and asked all the accused, including Hardik, who is currently the working president of Gujarat Congress, to remain present on May 2, when the court will begin framing charges. The state government had recently said it has started the process to withdraw cases registered against quota agitators.

POST-BAIL

Mevani arrested again on charge of assaulting woman cop

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Guwahati

SOON after getting bail from a Kokrajhar district court, Gujarat MLA Jignesh Mevani was re-arrested by the Assam Police on Monday on the charges of assaulting and outraging the modesty of a woman police officer.

Mevani, who was arrested on April 19 from Palanpur in Gujarat after an FIR was registered against him in Kokrajhar for his controversial tweet against Prime Minister, was granted bail by the court of chief judicial magistrate, Kokrajhar. Mevani's lawyer Angshuman Bora alleged that after he was granted bail, he was suddenly named in another case and rearrested.

Police in Assam's Barpeta had registered a case against the Congress-backed Independent MLA on Sunday based on an FIR that he had "misbehaved, used obscene words, assaulted and inappropriately touched" the woman police officer in the escort party while being taken to Kokrajhar from the Guwahati airport on April 21 after being brought on transit remand.

"The woman police officer was silent for the last five days. Also, the police did not mention this case while raising objection to his bail petition on Sunday. This cropped up today (Monday) immediately after he was granted bail," Bora said.

Mevani was arrested in the first case based on an FIR lodged by Arup Kumar Dey, a BJP executive member in Assam's autonomous Bodoland Territorial Council.

HP CM bats for Uniform Civil Code following UP, U'khand announcements

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Chandigarh

WITH Himachal Pradesh going to polls later this year, Chief Minister Jairam Thakur on Monday jumped on the Uniform Civil Code bandwagon saying his government was open to its implementation.

"The Uniform Civil Code is a good step... We will examine the outcome of the Code in other states and then make a decision. Our officers are examining it.We are open to implementing it in Himachal Pradesh and assess what can be improved," Thakur said on the sidelines of an event in Delhi.

Earlier, the BJP governments in Uttarakhand and Uttar Pradesh had announced that they would be considering the implementation of UCC.

Referring to his Uttarakhand counterpart Pushkar Singh Dhami's announcement to implement the Code, Thakur said the neighbouring state would set an example. While he asserted his government "will not take any decision in a hurry", the Himachal CM added that "the implementation is not ruled out before the November elections. We will take a decision soon," he added.

Thakur also downplayed the challenge from AAP in the state. "Himachal is a peaceful state. AAP's style of politics will not work. The state will not accept any third alternative. The AAP is an outsider for Himachal Pradesh; they have no leadership in the state. You can't win Himachal with imported leadership. This is not Punjab. They (AAP) can try because in a democracy everyone has the right to try, but they won't succeed," the CM said.

No scope for UCC in Bihar, says JD-U

PATNA: The UCC has become the latest flashpoint in Bihar. Days after BJP's Rajya Sabha MP Sushil Kumar Modi talked about Union Home Minister Amit Shah's statement that the UCC would be implemented in the states ruled by the party, ally JD-U hit back. JD-U parliamentary board chairman Upendra Kushwaha said the UCC would not be allowed in Bihar till Nitish Kumar was the CM.

"Why should the Code be enforced in Bihar? There is no question of its implementation. People are living peacefully in the state," Kushwaha said, asserting everything was going well under Nitish's leadership.

Leader of the Opposition Tejashwi Yadav announced that the RJD would protest in Parliament whenever the Bill's presented. Ramashankar

Bombay HC refuses to quash FIR against Ranas

SUDHIR SURYAWNSHI @ Mumbai

IN a big setback to husband-wife duo MLA Ravin Rana and MP Navneet Rana Rana, the Bombay High Court on Monday dismissed a petition filed by the two for quashing a second FIR against them for resisting their arrest over the row to recite the Hanuman Chalisa outside Chief Minister Uddhav Thackeray's family home.

The High Court bench observed that the reciting religious verses at the residence of another person (Maharashtra chief minister residence Matoshree) or at a public place are a breach of the personal liberty of the other person.

The court also said that the persons (MLA Ravi Rana and MP Navneet Rana) in public life are expected to act responsibly. "With great power comes with great responsibility. Those who are active in public life are expected to act responsibly is not extra but basic am expectation," the court observed.

"The state government is justified in the apprehension that it could create a law and order problem. We find considerable merit in the submission of the Special Public Prosecutor. He was justified in making reference to the FIR, to the declaration of reciting religious verses in the personal residence of the Chief Minister."

More desertions from Cong in poll-bound Gujarat

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA
@ Ahmedabad

WITH the poll fever in Gujarat rising every day, the season of switching loyalties is also peaking. Political leaders are busy exploring options and looking for greener pastures keeping the electoral prospects of various parties in mind. The latest to jump the ship are Manilal Vaghela and Kailash Gadhvi, both from the Congress, who have decamped to the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) and the Aam Aadmi Party (AAP), respectively.

Vaghela, a former Congress MLA whom the party had denied ticket in the 2017 Assembly elections in favour of Independent candidate Jignesh Mevani, joined the BJP on Sunday along with several of his supporters. State BJP president CR Patil welcomed him to the party fold at the 'Vijay Vishwas Sammelan' in Vadgam town of Banaskantha district.

Vaghela, who was among the senior-most Congress leaders in the state and was associated with the party right from the beginning of his political career, had resigned from the party in November last year. With Mevani, Vadgam's current MLA, arrested in Assam and Vaghela now in the BJP, it will interesting to see the how the poll battle will be poised in the constituency that has been a Congress bastion.

Since being thrown out of Vadgam, the veteran had nursed a grievance and said as much in his letter to Congress president Sonia Gandhi. He had pointed out that injustice was done to him despite his loyalty to the party during Ahmed Patel's Rajya Sabha election in 2017, when around 15 party MLAs resigned.

Vaghela had earlier this month met PM Narendra Modi in Delhi. According to BJP sources, his induction is part of the party's strategy to increase its presence on seats which are considered Congress strongholds. The party is eying the seats where it has traditionally been weak so as to offset any losses it may face in seats it had won last time.

Gadhvi, the longstanding spokesperson of Congress, also left the party on Sunday. "I do not think that the party (Congress) has the energy or the will to fight and conquer the ruling BJP. AAP has the power to fight evil and raise people's issues and resolve them," he said.

CM wants Ahom general in textbooks

The Ahoms had defeated the Mughals 17 times. One of the battles, fought in 1671, is etched in the hearts and minds of the Assamese. It is the Battle of Saraighat, considered the greatest naval fight on a river. The Mughals had come under the command of Ram Singh and had 30,000 infantry, 15,000 archers, 18,000 Turkish cavalry, 5,000 gunners, over 1,000 cannons but suffered a crushing defeat at the hands of the Ahoms who were led by General Lachit Borphukan. As not many people in the mainland know about his valour and gallantry let alone the Battle of Saraighat, CM Himanta Biswa Sarma has taken it upon himself to introduce the Ahom General to the country.

Our good days will come: Congress

The Congress in Assam is unfazed despite being embattled by a series of defections of its MLAs and leaders. State Congress chief Bhupen Kumar Borah said every political party goes through highs and lows. He is confident the good days of the party will come. "People had once embraced the AGP and then rejected it. The BJP will also meet the same fate. So our good days will come again," Borah said recently after his predecessor Ripun Bora ditched the party to don Trinamool Congress colours. The slide for the Congress started in 2016, a year after the then minister Himanta Biswa Sarma, who is now the chief minister, deserted the party along with several MLAs.

Panel seeks documentation of Assamese Muslims

The Assamese Muslims could soon be documented if the state government accepts the recommendations of a committee it had constituted. The committee suggested that the government issue a notification for identifying them as a distinct indigenous community and conduct a census to document them. Another suggestion was that each of the community members is issued with a certificate or identity card. A member of the committee said the objective was to ensure that the Assamese Muslims were not clubbed with Bengali-speaking Muslims. The committee also suggested the enforcement of a population policy. It submitted its recommendations to the CM on April 21.

BJP plans march in Delhi on day of Mamata visit over Bengal rape cases

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Kolkata

TO mark its protest against the recent incidents of rape in West Bengal, the BJP will stage a protest march and demonstration in New Delhi on April 29, the day West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee will land in the national capital.

She is to attend a conference of chief ministers and high court judges which will be inaugurated by Prime Minister Narendra Modi.

The march will be taken out from the Patiala House Court to the India Gate with the victims of 30 families from the Trinamool Congress-ruled state, said sources in the BJP.

The event is said to be politically significant as it will be organised at a time when Mamata will be present in Delhi and there is a strong buzz that the Bengal CM is likely to meet Modi and mount pressure on Centre on several issues ranging from the state's due from the central government to alleged misuse of central agencies like CBI and ED.

BJP's state president Sukanta Majumdar said, "In the recent past, 11 girls and women fell victims of sexual assault. Our protest event is aimed to aware the country about what is going on against the women in a state where the chief minister is a woman."

Sources in the saffron camp said the protest march will have the family members of rape victims in Bengal leading from the front.

The meeting between the Bengal CM and the PM, which is likely to be held, is said to be significant as Mamata had launched a potshot against BJP-led Centre two days ago amid the bulldozer row saying her government wants to unite people instead of bulldozing.

The chief ministers-chief justices conference will be held on April 30 and convened by the Chief Justice of India.

Rampurhat massacre: PIL questions Mamata's compensation package

The Kolkata High Court on Monday sought the state government's reply on the issue of compensation package for the families of the Rampurhat massacre victims announced by Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee after a PIL petitioned questioned whether the announcement would influence the witnesses in the carnage case. The massacre claimed nine lives.

Soren in soup as BJP alleges land allotment scam

MUKESH RANJAN @ Ranchi

IN yet another blow to Jharkhand Chief Minister Hemant Soren, former CM and BJP leader Raghubar Das alleged him of misusing office for allotting 11 acres of land to 'Sohrai Live Private Limited' belonging to his wife, Kalpana Soren for setting up a meat processing unit at Behra Industrial Area in Ranchi.

Soren himself holds industry portfolio in the state cabinet.

Das said that if it's true then it is a crime under the Representations of People's Act, 1988. "Moreover, the Behra Industrial Area is exclusively for tribal entrepreneurs," said Das.

Das alleged that Soren's Press Advisor and representative were also allotted mining leases, saying that the government which came into power in the name of 'Abua Dishum — Abua Raj' (my country, my rule), is working only for a select few.

KYIV

RUSSIA unleashed a string of attacks against Ukrainian rail and fuel facilities on Monday, striking crucial infrastructure far from the front line of its eastern offensive.

Ukrainian authorities said at least five people were killed by Russian strikes on the central Vynnytsia region.

The Vynnytsia regional prosecutors said another 18 people were wounded in Monday's Russian missile strikes on the towns of Zhmerynka and Koziatyn.

Vinnytsia regional Governor Serhiy Borzov said earlier that the Russian missiles targeted "critical infrastructure," but didn't elaborate.

The Vynnytsia region is fully controlled by Ukraine and is far behind the front lines.

As both sides in the 2-month-old war brace for what could be a grinding battle of attrition in the country's eastern industrial heartland, top US officials pledged more help to ensure Ukraine prevails.

In a bold visit to Kyiv to meet with President Volodymyr Zelenskyy, the American secretaries of state and defence said Washington had approved a $165 million sale of ammunition — non-US ammo, mainly if not entirely to fit Ukraine's Soviet-era weapons — along with more than $300 million in financing to buy more supplies.

Meanehile, US President Joe Biden has nominated career foreign service officer Bridget Brink to be the next US ambassador to Ukraine, the White House announced Monday.

US Secretary of State Antony Blinken said Monday after the meeting that the West's united support for Ukraine and pressure on Moscow are having "real results."

"When it comes to Russia's war aims, Russia is failing. Ukraine is succeeding," he added.

Ukrainian Foreign Minister Dmytro Kuleba welcomed the American support but said that "as long as Russian soldiers put a foot on Ukrainian soil, nothing is enough."

Kuleba warned that if Western powers want Ukraine to win the war and "stop Putin in Ukraine and not to allow him to go further, deeper into Europe," then countries must speed up the delivery of the weapons requested by Ukraine.

Russian President Vladimir Putin accused the US and its allies of trying to "split Russian society and to destroy Russia from within." When Russia invaded on February 24, its apparent goal was the lightning capture of Kyiv and perhaps the toppling of its government.

But the Ukrainians, with the help of Western weapons, bogged Putin's troops down and thwarted their push to Kyiv. Moscow now says its goal is to capture the mostly Russian-speaking Donbas region in the east. While both sides said the campaign in the east is underway, Russia has yet to mount an all-out ground offensive and has not achieved any major breakthroughs.

Ukrainian troops holed up in a steel plant in the strategic city of Mariupol are tying down Russian forces and apparently keeping them from being added to the offensive elsewhere in the Donbas. AP

Japan boat tragedy: Child's body found

TOKYO

RESCUERS searching since a tour boat carrying 26 people sank off far northeastern Japan have found the body of an 11th victim ' a child ' as questions intensified about why the vessel sailed in rough weather at a known hazardous location. The child was found late Sunday and later confirmed dead, the Coast Guard said on Monday. The bodies of seven men and three women were recovered earlier on Sunday.

The Kazu 1 with two crew was taking 24 passengers, including two children, on a scenic tour at Shiretoko National Park on the northern side of Hokkaido, Japan's northernmost main island, when it sent a distress call on Saturday afternoon saying it was sinking from its bow.

The location was near Kashuni Waterfall, which is known as a difficult place to maneuver boats because of its rocky coastline and strong tide. The Transport Ministry is investigating the boat's operator, Shiretoko Pleasure Cruise, which had two accidents last year, including one that also involved the captain of the sunken boat.

The ministry said it was looking into safety standards and the decision to conduct the tour despite rough weather on Saturday. AP

Lanka prez ready to form interim govt, claims Buddhist monk

COLOMBO

SRI LANKA'S embattled President Gotabaya Rajapaksa has agreed to form an interim government to tackle the unprecedented economic crisis, a senior Buddhist monk claimed on Monday, as the debt-ridden country stepped up efforts to keep the economy afloat.

Thousands of demonstrators have hit the streets since April 9, as the government ran out of money for vital imports; prices of essential commodities have skyrocketed and there are acute shortages in fuel, medicines and electricity supply. Rajapaksa expressed his intention to form the interim government in a letter to the powerful Buddhist clergy on Sunday.

Rajapaksa had responded to a letter from the chief monks of the four Buddhist chapters dated April 4 in which they had asked Rajapaksa to dissolve the Cabinet to set up an interim government, Madagoda Dhammananda, Chief Registrar of one of the chapters, said.

A few days ago high-ranking Buddhist monks, who oversee and regulate the Buddhist clergy, have urged the President, Prime Minister, Leader of the Opposition and all MPs to take effective steps to put the country in order and also said that they will be forced to issue a Sangha Convention if they fail to do so, Daily Mirror newspaper reported. There was no immediate reaction from the President's Office. The four Buddhist chapters - Malwathu, Asgiri, Amarapura and Ramanya chapters - wield power to influence Sri Lanka's political leaders.

To form an interim government, President Rajapaksa would either have to remove his older brother Mahinda Rajapaksa as the prime minister or volunteer to resign.

Prime Minister Mahinda Rajapaksa on Saturday dismissed the proposal for an interim government.

He had said it was futile to form an interim government with individuals pursuing different political ideals. PTI

Amazon pleads HC for FRL's store reversal

US e-comm giant argued 'transfer' of 835 stores by Future Retail to RIL violated Singapore tribunal's injunction

RAM SAHGAL @Mumbai

LEGAL troubles could increase for Future Group, despite its deal with RIL coming apart, with e-comm giant Amazon continuing to press for the enforcement of a Singapore Arbitral Tribunal order barring Future from alienating its assets.

Amazon argued in the Delhi HC on Monday that the "transfer" of 835 stores by Future Retail (FRL) to RIL violated an injunction passed by the Singapore Arbitral Tribunal that barred FRL from alienating its assets pending the tribunal passing a final order.

On April 23 , RIL and Future Group called off a deal signed in August 2020 involving the sale of Future's retail, wholesale and logistics assets to the former for ₹24,713 cr after bankers to the retailer voted against the deal. Amazon appealed against the proposed deal in October 2020 before an emergency arbitrator in Singapore on grounds that it violated certain agreements signed between itself and promoter group company Future Coupons in 2019. The EA ruled in favour of Amazon and the Arbitral Tribunal upheld the former's award to the e-comm giant . FRL sought a stay of arbitral proceedings first from the Delhi HC and then the SC, which referred the matter back to the Delhi HC, which is currently hearing an interim application by Amazon.

Amazon alleges Future Group and RIL colluded to enable the latter to take over FRL's 835 stores on February 25 under the guise of non payment of rent to it despite the two parties being aware of the injunction and before the NCLT approved the proposed scheme of transfer .

Amazon senior counsel Gopal Subramanium questioned the financial distress of FRL in March by citing its annual account submission for FY21 as late as in July 21 wherein the firm stated it was in a "comfortable financial position" and in a meeting with bankers as late as December 2021 where it reportedly stated it was in shortfall of only about ₹250 crore in lease obligation just before its March disclosure to stock exchanges referred to its dire financial position leading to RIL taking over the stores sub leased to it.

The hearing will continue on April 28 . The judge also asked if RIL was a party to the application seeking interim relief to which Amazon said not yet.

FAILED BID

- Amazon seeks enforcement of Arbitral order barring alienation of assets by Future
- RIL took control of 835 Future stores in Feb after latter fails to pay rent
- With RIL deal scrapped, bankers likely to take Future to IBC

Future reportedly owes creditors ₹29,000 cr

Amazon can't buy stake in FRL as FDI rules on retail bar it from same, but Its partner Samara Capital can bid for assets as can others like RIL

Government likely to launch IPO of LIC on May 4

MONIKA YADAV @NewDelhi

THE government is likely to launch the much-awaited initial public offering (IPO) of Life Insurance Corporation (LIC) on May 4, according to sources in the Finance Ministry.

It will dilute 3.5 per cent of its stake instead of 5 per cent as planned earlier in LIC through listing. It is hoping to garner Rs 21,000 crore from this IPO, the sources said.

"If everything goes as per the plan, the LIC IPO will hit the market on May 4 and close on May 9," a source in DIPAM, Finance Ministry told TNIE.

A formal announcement to this effect will be made today.

The dates were confirmed by the sources in Department of Financial Services (DFS) as well.

Currently, the Government of India holds 100 per cent stake in LIC. Its valuation would be Rs 6 lakh crore with 3.5 per cent dilution, 1.1 times of its embedded value of Rs 5.4 lakh crore. Embedded value is a measure of the consolidated shareholders value in an insurance company.

The LIC board had met on April 23 to approve the issue size of Rs 6 trillion with 3.5 per cent dilution. Reservations, discounts , issue dates and issue price will be known by Wednesday morning, as per sources.

Explaining why the government has decided to sell a smaller portion of the equity in the insurance behemoth, one of the sources said, "We can't take a risk of selling a larger share to the public as it would suck liquidity from the market. Situation is already very volatile in view of Russia-Ukraine crisis and resurgence of Covid cases in many parts of the country."

Notably, the government will have to file the fresh documents with the markets regulator the securities exchange board of India (SEBI), in case it fails to roll out the IPO before May 12.

The Finance Ministry had previously planned to launch the IPO of LIC by March this year but it had to postpone the roll-out on account of tensions between Russia and Ukraine.

Ola, Okinawa, Pure EV recalls 6,656 units; Boom follows

ARSHAD KHAN @NewDelhi

FOLLOWING a spate of fire incidents in electric vehicles (EVs), India's electric two-wheeler manufacturers have started recalling their products . These recalls also come at a time when union transport minister Nitin Gadkari has warned the manufacturers of heavy penalties if they are found to be negligent.

While Ola Electric, Pure EV and Okinawa have recalled 6,656 scooters in the past one week, Boom Motors, whose electric scooter Corbett 14 was allegedly involved in a fire incident in Vijayawada Saturday that claimed life of a 40-year-old man and injured two, has also issued a recall.

"While we are yet to give a concrete answer as to what led to the explosion, we have initiated a recall to double check," said Boom Motor, which had in November 2021 announced its foray in the e-2W market. The firm didn't mention the number of units to be recalled.

Ola Electric, whose flagship S1 Pro had caught fire in Pune last month, on Sunday said it was recalling 1,441 units. According to Ola's preliminary assessment, it was found that the incident was an isolated one. "As a pre-emptive measure, we will be conducting a detailed diagnostic and health check of the scooters in that specific batch and therefore are issuing a voluntary recall of 1,441 vehicles," Ola Electric said.

Pure EV, whose two-wheeler has caught fire multiple times, recalled 2,000 units, which it said will undergo a thorough check for their health and that they would be inspected for any imbalances. Okinawa, whose e-scooter is also involved in fire incidents, had last week issued a recall of 3,215 units.

'THERE IS NO SHORTAGE OF COAL IN COUNTRY,

RAKESH KUMAR @NewDelhi

AMID reports of a coal crisis in several parts of the country, the coal ministry on Monday said there is no shortage of coal in the country.

An official, on condition of anonymity, said railways is unable to deliver the coal stock on time due to various reasons. "India is producing sufficient coal, and has enough stock but transportation is the major obstacle. Due to unusual delays by railways, many states including Punjab, Gujarat and Southern states are facing a coal crisis. Therefore, the major problem is transportation and evacuation of coal," said the official.

Railway needs to transport 465 coal rakes per day but it has been transporting only 415 rakes, said the official, pointing to a shortage of 50 rakes per day. Therefore, states are bound to face coal crisis, which eventually may lead to power cuts in the country. However, the railway ministry rfuted this and said it had augmented the transportation of coal through railways in 2021-22 by a record 111 MT (million ton) and loaded a record 653 MT as compared to 542 MT in the previous year -- a growth of 20.4 %.

"Railways has prioritised the movement of coal to long distance power houses as well, which is reflected in the fact that the average lead of coal trains has increased by 7 % in the last 5 days as compared to the average leads of 1-10 April," said railway ministry in a statement on Monday. In the past few weeks, many states like Maharashtra have complained of inadequate supply to their thermal power plants. However, coal minister Pralhad Joshi on April 23 said India has 72.50 MT coal available at different sources. Out of 72.50 MT, 22.01 MT is available with thermal power plants. At the same time, the government said the total production during the 2021-22 fiscal has touched 777.23 MT compared to 716 MT during 2020-21, recording a growth of 8.55%.

However, this seems insufficient right now as the power demand has shot up manifold due to summer and resuming of industrial activities. According to the Central Electricity Authority's latest daily coal report, the coal stock is critical at 105 out of a total 150 thermal power stations using domestic coal.

Can turn collar from blue to white: Swiggy

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

GIG workers may have a chance to be promoted to managerial positions, after Swiggy introduced a new programme called 'Step Ahead' on Monday.

The programme allows delivery executives to be promoted to full-time managerial positions with fixed salaries and benefits. Delivery workers can be promoted to Fleet Managers, and will manage a group, or fleet, of delivery executives. The reasoning, according to Swiggy, is both to allow executives to transition to a more 'dedicated' role, while also needing individuals with a ground-level knowledge of delivery work to deal with issues the executives might face.

At least 20 per cent of Fleet Manager positions will be reserved for executives. Workers must have worked at Swiggy for at least two years before being considered, and also have a college degree, and basic computer and communication skills. "While most may consider their association with Swiggy as a stop-gap between jobs or education, or even an additional income, we realise there are some who want more. With 'Step Ahead', Swiggy is creating a unique opportunity for those interested in flipping their collar from blue to white and take on a managerial role," said Mihir Rajesh Shah, Vice-President of Operations, Swiggy.

Air India loses priority in overseas traffic rights

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @NewDelhi

AIR INDIA, which was recently acquired by the Tata Group, has lost its preferential status when it comes to operating international flights from India, as per the latest circular issued by the regulator The Directorate General of Civil Aviation (DGCA).

The fresh DGCA circular, which was issued on April 19, has removed the clause that said, "due consideration shall be given to operational plans submitted by Air India before allocation of the traffic rights to other eligible applicants."

It rather says, "The central government may at its discretion grant or deny allocation of traffic rights to any air transport undertaking having regard to its preparedness to undertake such operations, viability of the operations on a particular route, overall interests of the civil aviation sector etc.," the fresh circular read.

For airlines in India to operate international flights, India has to negotiate with the other country and sign a bilateral air services agreement. This agreement lays down how many flights or seats per week can be allowed between the two nations. Once the agreement is sealed, the two countries then allocate these rights to their respective airlines. In the past, Air India was given preference since it was a state-owned airline.

The new circular also notes that traffic rights allocated to an airline for a particular schedule period has to be fully utilised by it during the mentioned period.

Experts fear correction of 5-10% in near term

RAM SAHGAL @Mumbai

AS frontline stock indices fell more than a percent each for a second straight session, equity analysts see a 5-10% correction from current levels.

Nifty dived 218 points to close at 16953.95 while the Sensex shed 617 points at 56579.89 , taking cues from Asian peers like Nikkei and Hang Seng which fared far worse with the latter tanking almost 4% on a rise in Covid cases on the mainland .

Globally, markets were spooked by a more hawkish stance by the US Federal Reserve which is anticipated to raise rates in early May by 50 basis points . A stronger dollar reduces the risk free return for US investors from emerging markets like India , resulting in their selling EM shares .

With renewed rate hike fears in the US taking root this month , FIIs have sold Indian shares over Rs 17000 crore so far this month . The selling is expected to continue , causing more choppiness in the market, going forward.

"We could see a 5-10% correction from the current levels in the near term , depending on global factors," said Nirmal Jain , founder and chairman of IIFL Group . "But conditions back home aren't as bad thanks to strong rural demand which will enable us to bounce back faster."

Meanwhile , fears of a lockdown in China's capital Beijing to curb a fresh Covid surge dampened sentiment in commodities with active Brent oil and WTI futures down 5% each at $101 a bbl and $97 intraday Monday . International contacts of aluminium and zinc too traded down 5% each on demand destruction fears from China . As risky asset classes fell , the dollar index which measures the USD against six global currencies , edged up by half a percent at 101.66 , a five year high, on Monday.

FMCG firms worry as palm oil ban to hit margins

SAMIKSHA GOEL @NewDelhi

THERE is another blow for the FMCG industry with Indonesia, the largest exporter of palm oil, announcing a ban on its exports. As it is a key ingredient for food processing industries, the ban is expected to further escalate cost of products and impact margins of consumer companies.

Analysts say FMCG majors like ITC, Britannia, Hindustan Unilever, would be among the firms will be affected directly. This move is likely to cause a price increase in other edible oils like soybean oil, sunflower oil, according to Amnish Aggarwal - Director - Research at Prabhudas Lilladher.

"We believe the impact would be seen most in categories such as biscuits, noodles, cakes, potato chips, frozen desserts etc. QSRs like Westlife Development and Burger King can also feel the pinch given edible oil usage to cook/fry their patties/ fries," said Aggarwal.

Palm oil, which is cheaper as compared to other edible oils, makes for 60% of oil imports and Indonesia is the second largest seller after Malaysia.

India will be affected by the ban as it is the world's largest importer of the oil. In 2020-2021, India imported 13.13 MT of edible oil, of which palm oil was at 8.18 MT. Pankaj Agarwal, COO, Bikano, said it is a point of worry for all snack majors in India. "Palm oil is one of the important ingredients in our products. We faced similar issues in the past two years. However, we have not raised the prices of any of our products. With the given situation, we will have to look at some alternative options like rice bran oil and cottonseed oil or might increase the prices of."

On the other hand, there are reports coming in that the ban excludes crude palm oil and RBD (refined, bleached and deodorized) oil from export.

GOLD, SILVER PRICES WITNESS HEAVY FALL

Gold and silver prices fell heavily on Monday in India in line with fall in international precious metal prices. In the Indian market, MCX June contract fell 1.59% or ₹834 lower at ₹51,428, while silver May contract tumbled at ₹65,160, down 2.08% or ₹1,355 from the previous day's close. In the international market, gold was trading lower at $1,921 per ounce and silver declined marginally to $23.78 per ounce. "Gold prices declined on expectations of higher-than-expected rate hike from US FED and rally in US bond yields," said Anuj Gupta, V-P, IIFL Securities. Yellow metal generally move in opposite direction to equity markets, but in today's trade this was not the case. ENS

Gautam Adani overtakes Warren Buffet

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

AS Adani stocks continued to shine on the domestic exchanges, Group chairman Gautam Adani has overtaken legendary investor Warren Buffett to become the fifth-richest billionaire in the world, according to Forbes Real Time Billionaire Index.

The 59-year-old Adani has an estimated net worth of $122.2 billion, as of Monday's market close, as against Buffett's $119.4 billion fortune, Forbes' data showed.

According to Bloomberg Billionaire Index, Adani, who also is Asia's richest, at $119 billion is $3 billion shy of Buffett's fortune as of Monday but has been the biggest wealth creator of 2022. In less than 4 months of 2022, Adani's fortune has risen by $43 billion, according to the Index which is topped by Tesla's Elon Musk.

Mukesh Ambani, Reliance Industries' chairman and former Asia's richest, was in 9th position in the Forbes list with a fortune of $101.9 billion.

Meanwhile, Group company Adani Power's market capitalization has now breached the ₹1 lakh crore mark on the exchanges. In the next few sessions, it is expected that Adani Wilmar will become the seventh group company to enter this coveted list as its current market cap has peaked to around ₹98,000 crore.

Max & Thompson-Herah clinch Laureus awards

Formula One world champion Max Verstappen and triple Tokyo Olympic gold medallist Elaine Thompson-Herah won the Laureus World Sportsman and Sportswoman of the Year awards Sunday in a virtual ceremony from Seville. Dutchman Verstappen, who won the Emilia Romagna Grand Prix earlier Sunday, follows Rafael Nadal who won the men's award last year.

NADA's plan: Embracing technology, enriching education programme

INDRANEEL DAS @Bengaluru

INCLUSIVENESS and accessibility were the two dominant words during a brief exclusive interaction with new National Anti-Doping Agency director general Ritu Sain on Monday. It's been less than a month since she took charge as an independent top official, but the NADA DG has charted a vision for reaching out to more and more stakeholders in the ecosystem, while at the same time bringing in transparency and accountability. She would like to usher in new technology to get closer to the athletes and engage with them in their language.

The ongoing Khelo India University Games in Bengaluru has presented Sain with a chance to understand issues relating to athletes and other stakeholders. The NADA is engaging with more than 3000 athletes from 209 universities through apps and various interactive methods.

Despite numerous interactions in the Jain University campus and other venues in and around Bengaluru, she found time off her hectic schedule to speak with this newspaper about her vision and why she felt inclusiveness, accessibility, outreach and accountability would be some of the areas she would like to stress upon. After all, it's all about bringing in a positive change.

"My vision is to reach out to all relevant stakeholders in the ecosystem with a clear awareness programme," she said. "Testing is an important deliverable. But we want to be fair and leverage technology to embrace transparency and accountability. We need to reach out to where a discourse of interaction begins in schools and institutions."

The NADA chief emphasised on an enriching education programme and making it accessible to all. She also felt all education material would be designed as per the requirement of athletes and in a language they understand. "For hearing impaired athletes we would provide them in sign language and for visually impaired it would be in audio files," she said. "It's about extending relationships." "It is important that we keep pace with the current generation of athletes by speaking to them in a simpler manner," she said. "Therefore you will see mobile kiosks with electronic displays to run the 'I for Integrity' campaign, pledge walls at venues and mobile games for athletes."

Sain also felt the anti-doping programme spoke about continuous anti-doping programmes in institutions and schools. The agency's website that is being updated sporadically is expected to get a massive overhaul very soon. Certain areas have not been updated for months but according to the NADA chief whatever should be announced or revealed would be there in the website at the earliest once the old website is updated.

Dhawan, Punjab's king

Opener scores unbeaten 88, helps team beat Chennai by 11 runs

ASHOK VENUGOPAL @Chennai

JUST three months short of his 41st birthday MS Dhoni put his experience to effective use by single-handedly helping Chennai Super Kings beat Mumbai Indians the other day. Such was the stature and impact of a Dhoni masterclass that it was the perfect morale boost for the CSK players to come out with their best in the game against Punjab Kings and the remaining games. Sources in the CSK camp also indicated that the think-tank had tried to motivate the players, insisting that as if MS can show so much commitment at his age to serve the team's cause, the rest of the players should try to uplift the quality of their game for the team's sake.

Brief scores: PBKS 187/4 in 20 ovs (Dhawan 88 n.o) bt CSK 176/6 in 20 ovs (Rayudu 78; Rishi 2/39).

TODAY'S MATCH

RCB vs RR
LIVE ON STAR SPORTS AT 7.30 PM, PUNE

Ravindra Jadeja, after calling the coin toss right, had put Punjab batters in.

CSK's strategy was to open with a pacer and a spinner and try to stifle runs in the powerplay as Mayank Agarwal and Shikhar Dhawan are both attacking batters. Mukesh Choudhary, Maheesh Theekshana, Mitchell Santner and skipper Jadeja were rotated in the first six overs so as to not allow Dhawan and Agarwal to settle. To an extent, CSK were successful as Punjab just about managed to make 37 runs in the powerplay and lost their skipper Agarwal. It was in the middle overs that CSK slowly lost grip as their bowlers started bowling wides, and short-pitched ones as the scoreboard started to tick for Punjab.

Dhawan played with a lot of intent. He used his feet well and excelled in picking the gaps to score boundaries at will through the square off the wicket. A boundary off Dwaine Pretorius to backward square-leg ringed in his 46th IPL 50. Dhawan's criss-cross scoop off Mukesh over short-fine showed the Delhi-born player's control over the proceedings. Rajapaksa, trying to up the run-rate, skied a slower one from Bravo to Shivam Dube at extra cover. By then, Rajapaksa (42) in the company of Dhawan, had raised 110 off 71 balls for the second wicket. Thereafter, Dhawan scored at every given opportunity to remain unbeaten on 88 and guide Punjab to 187 for 4 in 20 overs.

Chasing 188 for a win, CSK had a disastrous start, losing their opener Robin Uthappa cheaply. Thereafter, Mitchell Santner and Shivam Dube did not apply themselves and got out meekly without a fight.

A lot depended upon Ruturaj Gaikwad and Ambati Rayudu to do the rescue act. The duo hung in and kept the scoreboard ticking. However, just as the partnership was looking promising, Gaikwad was dismissed. Rayudu took charge of the proceedings, started dominating the Punjab bowlers to keep the contest alive. Doing bulk of the scoring, Rayudu, in the company of Jadeja, helped the team cross 150-run mark. Needing 34 from just over two overs, a win was still a possibility with Rayudu looking dangerous. However, Kagiso Rabada stepped up to stop Rayudu, disturbing his stumps with a fullish delivery.

There was high anticipation upon Dhoni's arrival. However, he was helpless, especially after a brilliant 19th over by Arshdeep Singh, who conceded just 8 runs. With 27 needed from last six balls, it was too much for CSK as they eventually fell short by 11 runs.

CHAMPIONS' LEAGUE

Last year's finalists, Manchester City, face a real battle on their hands against 13-time champions, Real Madrid, in the first leg of the Champions League semi finals on Tuesday at Etihad Stadium. A look...

MIDFIELD BATTLE

Following his nagging injury issues, City's Kevin de Bruyne (right) has dazzled with a series of eye-catching shows. With Rodri by his side, Pep Guardiola's side can hold the ball for long periods. How they perform against Madrid's own superstars in the middle — Luka Modric, Casemiro and Toni Kroos — could inform so much about the fate of both legs.

CONTRASTING SHOW

City are the better side, have a better collection of individuals and all their underlying metrics (from goals conceded to against) are better for this season. However, Madrid are blessed with match-winners who can win personal battles. The likes of Modric and Benzema dragged them over the line against Chelsea and they could do the same.

SAURASHTRA: Delhi beat Karnataka by six wickets in the senior women's T20 trophy on Monday. Karnataka were bundled out for just 57. Delhi's Soni Yadav and Riti Tomar scalped three wickets each. Delhi reached the target in the 16th over with Priya Punia scoring an unbeaten 26.

Srihari looking at freestyle discipline

ASHIM SUNAM @Bengaluru

SRIHARI Nataraj is the best Indian swimmer when it comes to his speciality, the backstroke. But the Bengaluru man has been showing interest in the freestyle event of late. He featured in that discipline in the senior nationals last year and Srihari's name was registered in two freestyle events — 50m and 100m — besides five other events at the ongoing Khelo India University Games in Bengaluru as well.

In the 50m race held at the Jain University Global Campus on Monday, the Olympian won gold with a timing of 23.23s. This may not be a great timing, but one has to note that the swimmer swam without a taper and shave. "Actually I did not start well and I did not enter the water in the best way I should have. So it could have been better. I had to pick up and did so around the 20m mark. Also I was without shave and taper so it is an okay timing, " said the swimmer, who was congratulated the state chief minister KC Narayana Gowda after the race. Srihari is hopeful of collecting more gold medals in the races lined up for the next few days. Despite his gold medal finish here in freestyle, the swimmer wants to focus more on the backstroke. However, he does not mind competing in freestyle at international meets provided it does not clash with his pet event.

"May be in the near future, I will compete in international meets too. Though I love freestyle, my training is primarily in backstroke. In the nationals last year, I had decided not to swim much backstroke because before that I had done a whole season of that, and I wanted a slight change. For the nationals then, I trained for freestyle and the base has still been there and it is working quite well as of now. I also have to say that I love the freestyle," said Srihari, who plans to peak around the Asian and the Commonwealth Games time.

STYLE IT LIKE A PRO

- Opt for a light and flowy fabrics, something you can be comfortable for long hours
- Men can go in for layering, to take a break from usual kurta-pyjama look
- Dress it up by adding statement jewellery so that it brings in balance to your outfit if it's on the simpler side
- Don't hesitate to experiment with Indo-western outfits, which could make you stand out in the crowd

FESTIVE FASHION

MONIKA MONALISA

AFTER a month of ritualistic fasting, Muslims in Bengaluru are looking forward to Eid next week. Ahead of which they are already making purchases to look their best on the festive occasion. This Eid, while shararas and ghararas still stay in fashion, many are opting for light and pastel-coloured outfits to celebrate a summary Eid.

Lighter fabrics like chanderi or cotton silks are some of the top picks to beat the heat. For instance, Zohara Jamal, a city-based lifestyle content creator, always keeps it light-yet-dressy during Eid lunches. "Most of our lunches happen outdoors on our lawn, which is usually a warm, sunny afternoon. Which is why I go in for a lighter material with dressy detailing like lace or floral work which gives a feminine touch," says Jamal, adding that lunch is usually at her in-laws' and dinner is at her mother's place.

Eid for Jamal is also about pulling out her heirloom jewellery. "Last year, I wore a chanderi floral printed salwar and paired it with an heirloom necklace called Gutta Pusul, something that has been passed down to me from my grandmother. That makes you look dressed up while you actually feel light," says Jamal, suggesting that white is a good colour to play around along with heavy jewellery.

Javed Sheikh, who is celebrating this year's Eid with family in Uttarakhand, is going in for a linen and cotton kurta-pyjama. "Since, up in the hills summers are warmer, men choose breathable fabrics. If we were in Bengaluru, we would have teamed it up with a Nehru jacket," says Sheikh, who works in the area of finance and operations.

Husna Sait wearing one of her creations from her festive collection

While shararas and ghararas are still in fashion, this Eid many are opting for light and pastel-coloured outfits considering the rising temperatures

Fashion model Naved Qureshi has a similar view when it comes to men's fashion. "With Eid coming up in the peak of summer, it sometimes gets really uncomfortable to wear pathanis or kurtas with heavy work. I, personally, opt for pastel colours and lighter shades," says Qureshi, adding that he also goes for many Indo-Western styles. Although during Eid, the fashion limelight is mostly focused on women, however, Qureshi, likes to twin with his son Abeer Qureshi. "People should not shy away from decking out," he says.

Agrees fashion designer Husna Sait, who has her studio on Commercial Street. "This year I am already sold out on the sharara collection of my label and most of the clients who come in to customise outfits are also going for that," says Sait, adding that the prime inspiration comes from the outfits of 'traditional Pakistani girls'. "This year I see a lot of lavender or fuchsia being picked up... soft net fabric has always been an Eid favourite, which is also quite versatile," says Sait.

On his visit to B'luru, Jovanny V Ferreyra, the face behind Artidote, a virtual space to heal through art, shares how he went on to become a social media sensation with a following of over one million

ANTIDOTE TO CHAOS

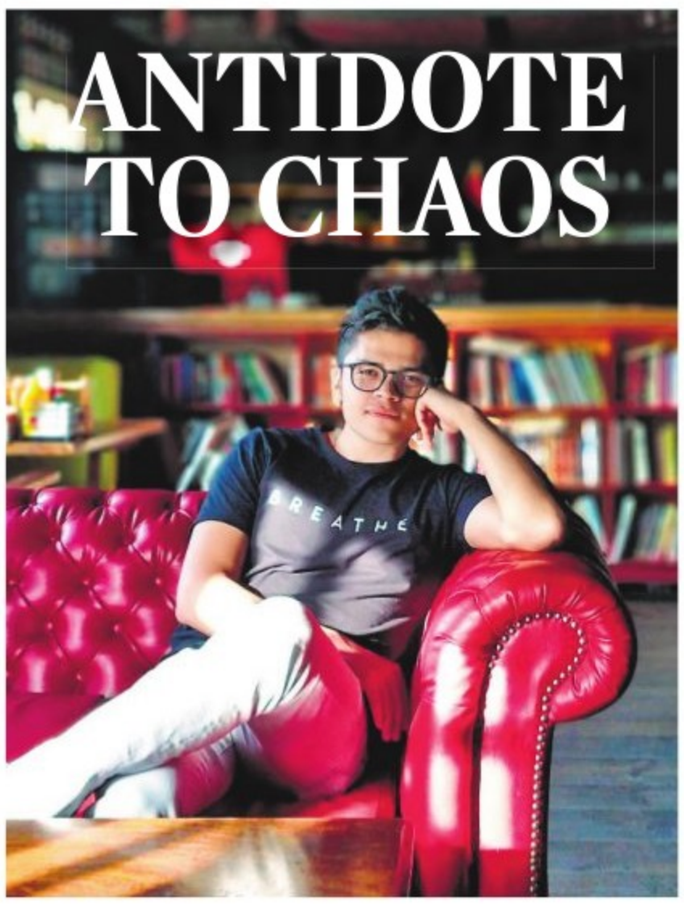
ANILA KURIAN

WHEN Jovanny V Ferreyra founded Artidote in 2015, he had no inkling of its reach. Today, with 1 million followers on Instagram, Facebook and Twitter, the social media account that uses poems and quotes to create a safe space, bond and heal through art, has become every millennial's go-to spot.

As part of his India Tour with Under 25, Ferreyra was in the city recently for 'The Artidote moment'. "Bengaluru is like second home because the last time I came here was in February 2020, when I almost decided to move here for good from America. But the pandemic hit and all my plans changed," says Ferreyra.

Two years later, he booked his flight to attend his friend's wedding in Goa and stayed longer to go on with his India tour. "I started Artidote during a depressing episode in my own life in 2015. I had just moved to Berlin to make it big in the art world but I didn't really have a great experience. I couldn't do many of the mundane activities except sit and scroll on my phone. Through that, I started collecting artworks and poems, started sharing them and realised it was helping me and others who read it too," he says. With a majority of followers between the ages of 20 and 35, his audience grew over the years and across the globe.

During the workshop that was held at the Under25 headquarters, Ferreyra interacted with the participants, collected their stories, read them out loud and gave insights. He says, "The idea is to connect the stories and blow them up in bigger pictures. It was a coaching experience and storytelling session, giving the audience a space to feel comfortable."



When asked how he deals with overwhelming situations, he points out that he uses a few methods to help him. "I tell myself the following sentences — My body is a safe space to feel my fear. My body is a safe space to feel my anxiety, to feel my stress and my thoughts — I repeat this over and over again till I can feel my nervous system calm down," he explains, adding that he also does breathing exercises to handle any situation.

Having been born in a small town in Mexico, his parents migrated to Chicago when Ferreyra was 10 years old. He didn't enjoy his life there, often felt bullied and had a tough life. "The concept of getting professional help wasn't something that was explored back then. So, my upbringing has been similar to how many Indians feel. But I realised that I had to take charge of my life. I'm happy to see that many others today are making that decision and choosing their mental health over anything else," he says.

Here in the country till the first week of May, Ferreyra hopes to soak in all that India has to offer before he returns to Mexico. "I'm beyond thrilled to see what more Artidote can do and how it can touch more lives. I'm happy to see how far we've come and hope to continue doing the same," Ferreyra signs off.

FIT BIT

Eka pada vamadeva viparita natarajasana

(One-legged beautiful dance pose of Lord Shiva)

Nataraja is one of the names of Lord Shiva. Traditionally, Nataraja is the king, or lord, of the dance, which is the cosmic dance of creation, preservation and dissolution. This advanced pose strengthens the legs, hips, ankles and chest, and helps one develop grace. This backward bending pose brings a sense of balance and coordination in the practitioner and increases concentration.

STEPS

- Relax your body in Tadasana (Mountain Pose) breathing normally, focusing at one point.
- Raise your arms keeping the hand straight with palms facing down. Bend the left knee to raise the leg towards the buttocks. Hold the big toe of your left leg.
- Inhale and raise your left leg with your knee bent, as much as possible. Make sure that the toes of your left leg face the floor and your left knee face the sky.
- Slowly try to catch the knee which is raised with both hands.
- Maintain your entire body weight on the right leg.
- Gaze straight and breathe normally.
- Stay in this asana for 30-40 seconds. Increase to 1 minute once experienced.
- Gradually lower the leg as return to the initial pose of Tadasana.
- Repeat the asana with your other leg. Practise 3-5 times with each leg.

BENEFITS

- It helps to stretch your chest, abdomen, groin and thighs.
- It strengthens shoulders, back, legs, hips, ankles and arms.
- This is very useful to relieve stress and anxiety.
- More helpful to attain a calm and peaceful mind and increases concentration.
- Helps to develop a sense of balance, stability and coordination.
- It is more effective to improve your digestion.
- Helps to reduce obesity.

LIMITATIONS

- People who suffer from severe back pain, heart problems, low/ high BP, duodenal or peptic ulcers, hernia, colitis or vertigo, avoid this asana.
- Neither overstretch the body nor hold the pose for too long. Practise within the range of your own strength and flexibility.
- If you find any difficulty or discomfort, you can exit the pose and ask for a yoga expert's help.

EXPRESS ILLUSTRATION

SURVIVING SOCIAL MEDIA

OPEN SPACE
Tina Shashikanth
Chief Sub Editor
ruchita@newindianexpress.com

I strongly feel that we Urban Kannadigas on social media are one of the most confused bunch of people on this planet. Being on these platforms since 2007 has given me the undue advantage of observing and understanding trends, differences, fallouts, cliques, tragedies, comedies and silences too. While I prefer posting at odd hours, I also know when a post can garner maximum traffic and which topics are preferred by us Kannadigas. I consider myself a realistic bystander with decent observational skills.

So, this usually happens. A person trends when they post on controversial subjects. Then, eventually someone in their friends' list writes something that opposes his views. Now, something very amusing happens. Those who pressed the like button and even commented on the first man's post can also be spotted openly supporting the second post. After a couple of days, someone else posts opposing both these people, backing their post with facts and figures. Well, what do you know? Same people in the comments section!! That's why I said, 'most confused bunch'.

Then there are a few pathbreakers. They are determined to oppose anyone who does not sync with their wavelength. They consider everything else plain trash. Every day is spent making shocking declarations and judgements. These people usually have a set of followers who faithfully share all their posts and are ready to defend them in case someone decides to take on them. Their walls usually resemble warzones or thriller movies. Friends turn into foes within minutes, deceased people are cancelled and verdicts are passed on a daily basis.

Someone I was on very good terms with unfriended me recently. I texted him to say I was surprised and asked if he cared to tell me why. His reply baffled me. He had unfriended me because he read a post of mine that said 'more than a decade being on social media had given me enough clarity to see the difference between friends and acquaintances'. I said I was glad he told me and somewhat gleefully told him I will never cross paths with him again.

Political views usually elicit very strong reactions on social media. Nowadays you can easily master expletives just by scrolling over comment sections in Twitter and Facebook. Even those in the public sphere who wish to stay away from all the toxicity are trolled for their silence.

While Instagram seems a little less harmful, it has always been accused of triggering narcissism, depression and body issues among youngsters.

As to myself, I benefit from a set of elementary rules I have been following all these years. I do not entertain fake profiles and locked profiles since I cannot verify them. People who come up with or share hate posts are blocked. I never curse or use offensive talk during my interactions and always respect different opinions. I make sure to appreciate a well-written post and finally, apologise — whenever I am wrong. This is my code and it keeps me sane.

This CEO is launching his new music cover inspired by the 1993 cover, Purani Jeans, which is an attempt to recollect his student days

COLLEGE DAYS UNPLUGGED

EXPRESS FEATURES

REAL-estate, music and writing – Ashwinder Singh, CEO, Residential, Bhartiya Urban (integrated smart city project under Bhartiya City), seems to dabble with all of these with ease. However, what came first is definitely the love for music which has stayed throughout his professional career. From being a singer during office parties and even during stressful times during his banking journey, Singh has always used music as a feel-good tool. Thus, also paving way to launch his new music cover Purani Jeans, a melodious memoir of his college days.

Purani Jeans is a music cover released in 1993 by Pakistani singer Ali Haider. However, Singh added his own style to the song. The music video features Singh, in a casual tee and shorts with a guitar in hand – a typical reflection of Singh's tryst with music since his student days. The music cover was also recently launched by playback singer Kunal Ganjawala on 'Unplugged Melodyyy — Ashwinder R Singh's YouTube channel. "The song is actually about recollecting favourite memories of being a student. I was a typical backbencher and during my school and college days, I was very active in cultural activities, especially music. This song became my trademark during my college days," says Singh, who looks at music as a stress-buster. "I also realised that singing at the workplace actually makes your employees very comfortable," says Singh, who is inspired by the works of the legendary ghazal singer Jagjith Singh.

Singh (47), who was born in Chandigarh, started his career in financial services with many large business companies. However, he ventured into real-estate in 2015, by co-founding Anarock Property, a real estate service company after working as the CEO of residential business at Jones Lang Lasalle, another real estate service company.

"I am a very reluctant entrepreneur. But I had the backing of my family. We are a family where a lot of the members have had postings in different cities across India. We were never apprehensive of moving into a new town and taking up new responsibilities. I have been a serial migrant for years now," says Singh, who came to Bengaluru in 2021 to take on his new assignment at Bhartiya Urban.

The author of The A to Z of Residential Real Estate, a beginner's guide for home buyers, he wrote the book when he realised there wasn't enough literature to cater to residential home buyers to make buying decisions seamless. "It addresses insights on residential real estate, payment schemes, home loans, and other aspects," says Singh, who also observes a steady rise in the demand of sustainable home options with workspace integration after the pandemic.

On his takeaways from his professional career, Singh always banks on originality. "I have worked on bringing in originality in what I do without looking at the competition and by understanding what the consumer wants. This has helped me enhance my creativity and originality in the work I do," says Singh, who reads books on metaphysics.

FINDERS VS KEEPERS

LOVEOLOGY
Mahesh Natarajan

(The author is a counsellor with InnerSight)

WHEN we were kids playing around, there would often be a case of finders versus keepers. It could be as small a thing as a pencil found in the dust somewhere, to books found stuck between bus seats, to other, more particularly personal things. The finder of the said piece, while flaunting their find, would often be confronted by a previous owner who had lost it earlier, or just forgotten about it, and now suddenly aware of its existence, claiming rights over the object. Then, a right old battle of finders versus keepers emerges, with each party claiming ownership, and a jury of peers being pulled in, more often than not, to watch the spectacle as it unfolds as to actual adjudication of who gets to claim ownership. Sometimes, an adult might intervene and set adult logic onto the conflict and pack up the kids.

It is one thing for lost and found objects, but what is the rule for lost and found relationships?

A couple might find themselves drifting away, not quite broken up, not quite together, and suddenly one day, one of them is "found" by a third person, gets celebrated and loved, and then the earlier partner wakes up. This was "their" partner, and no, they had not split up, nor even taking a break – maybe just a little distant from each other, but this was "their" partner and the other is an interloper. The new lover might have a totally different take on it, claiming they had found this person and connected with them, not their fault if this person had found a connection with them rather than the earlier partner. Full-on conflicts emerge, often in public view, with each claiming the person in the middle for themselves as their own by right, by law or by love.

So, who is right?

The good news is that, unlike objects, the person in the middle actually has a voice and can assert themselves. Do they see themselves as having drifted from an earlier commitment? Or, have they found a new and more valuable attachment? Or, are they being opportunistic? They can and often do assert their return themselves, but sometimes they might be more object-like, letting the people fight over them, claiming they can't make a choice.

Either way, it doesn't stop the others from acting as if these relationships were another game of Finders vs Keepers. They trade barbs – home wrecker, spouse stealer, ice versus spice, and whatnot, acting as if the person in the middle of this was not an active part of the decision at all.

It is so much easier to blame someone else as a thief, rather than to really accept the reality that our attachment has weakened, that our attention had wandered and we had taken each other for granted. Or, that our relationship had been on shaky grounds held more by promises than by real feelings, or that we just had the wrong partner for ourselves.

Finding a relationship is difficult. Keeping one is harder.

IT'S A WRAP FOR DHANANJAY'S HEAD BUSH

The multilingual gangster drama will be out in five languages in September

CE FEATURES

DHANANJAY, one of the busiest stars in Sandalwood, has been juggling with various projects. The actor, who recently completed shooting for Once Upon a Time in Jamaligudda, has wrapped up shooting for his multilingual film Head Bush. The film is Shoonya's directorial debut and will be out in five languages. It is based on the life of Bengaluru's first underworld don M P Jayaraj, the role will be played by Dhananjay.

Paayal Rajput, who is making her Kannada debut had shared a few details about the film on her social media account and had mentioned that it is set to release in September. Head Bush comprises a huge star cast including Yogi of Loose Mada fame, Crazy Star Ravichandran, Raghu Mukherjee, and Vasishta N Simha in prominent roles. The film's music is scored by Charan Raj.

SATELLITE AND DIGITAL RIGHTS OF 777 CHARLIE SOLD FOR A RECORD PRICE

The Rakshit Shetty-starrer, directed by Kiran Raj, is slated to hit the theatres on June 10

A SHARADHAA

RAKSHIT Shetty's 777 Charlie is one of the anticipated films to release this year, which will hit the theatres on June 10. According to the latest development, satellite and digital rights of the comedy-adventure are sold to Colors Kannada and Voot respectively for a whopping price. However, Paramvah Studios, the makers of the film have not revealed the amount.

Parameshwar Gundkal, the business head of Colors Kannada , who has watched 777 Charlie has raved about the film. "Five years of hard work, cinema love, insightful overview, and clarity that I feel is going to take this boy from Kasaragod to a very high level. The movie's plus points is a heart-touching conversation with Rakshit acting and the life brought by a dog named Charlie (sic)," mentioned Parameshwar in his long note about the film on his social media account. He has also heaped appreciation to the writer and director Kiran Raj.

777 Charlie is yet another multilingual film from the Kannada industry and will be released in 5 languages.

While the actor-filmmaker, Prithviraj will be releasing the Malayalam version, the Tamil rights are bought by director Karthik Subbaraj. Details of the Hindi and Telugu versions will be revealed soon.

777 Charlie, bankrolled by GS Gupta and Rakshith Shetty, marks the debut of Tamil actor Bobby Simha in Kannada cinema. The film also stars Sangeetha Sringeri, Raj B Shetty, and Danish.

The film's music is composed by Nobin Paul, and Aravind Kashyap is the cinematographer of the film.

Director Prem to rope in actors from multiple languages for his next with Dhruva Sarja

The pan-India film, backed by KVN Productions, is based on a real-life incident

CE FEATURES

DIRECTOR Prem and Dhruva Sarja are teaming up for a multilingual film, and the project commenced with a grand muhurath on April 24 in Mysore. This is the first time the actor and the director are teaming up for a mass commercial entertainer, which is backed by KVN Productions. Speaking to CE post the official launch of the film, Prem said that the work for the pan India film is already in progress, and the team plans to reveal the title soon.

Prem's story is set between 1968 and 1978 and is based on a real incident. "I am currently recording the song. Since the film is set to be made across five languages, we are working on a title that will have a universal appeal," says Prem, who is simultaneously finalising the star cast.

Prem's current focus is on roping in popular stars from across other film industries. "With Dhruva in the lead, the search is on for a female lead actor. Talks are on with some Bollywood bigwigs. We will also approach a few well-known actors from different regions whom we think will fit the bill. Whoever is ready to allot their dates for our film will be on board," he says.

Since it's a period film, Prem is waiting for the art director Mohan B Kere to construct the required sets in Bengaluru to start shooting. "We have already provided a model made in a 3D format to the art director. One of the two sets is ready and I'm waiting for the other one to be completed, which might take a month or so. I can book the artist's date only after I get a go-ahead from the art director," he says.

As far as the technical crew goes, cinematographer William David has been roped in for the project.

Avatara Purusha brims of top-notch performances: Director Suni

The film, starring Sharan and Ashika Ranganath, to hit the screens on May 6

A still from the film

CE FEATURES

DIRECTOR Suni's upcoming film Avatara Purusha, starring Sharan and Ashika Ranganath, features an ensemble cast. The first part of the duology will be hitting the screens on May 6. Ahead of the release, the director introduces us to a few pivotal characters. "The supernatural comedy-drama has an emotional family elements which is aided by the senior actor Sai Kumar, who plays an Ayurvedic Pandit. We have actor Bhavya playing the latter's wife in the film. The mother-son sentiment between her and Sharan has come out well. Sudharani will be seen as Sai Kumar's sister, who has less screen space in part 1 and will occupy more space in part 2 of Avatara Purusha. This marks the second project of the trio," says Suni. Avatara Purusha will also see Ashutosh Rana as a black magician Guru. "There were a lot of advantages to bringing in a unique cast for the film, and these actors have done justice to their respective roles, and they add value to the story," he says. The first single Hero Honda from Avatara Purusha released recently. The first part of Avatara Purusha, backed by Pushkar Mallikarjunaiah, highlights Sharan's popular character and has Srinagar Kitty, Balaji Manohar, and Sadhu Kokila featuring in pivotal roles.

William David is the cinematographer of Avatara Purusha.

Akshay to play the lead in Soorarai Pottru Hindi remake

CE FEATURES

ACTOR Akshay Kumar will be playing the lead in the Hindi remake of Sudha Kongara's Soorarai Pottru. The remake will once again be directed by Sudha and will have music by the original composer GV Prakash.

Interestingly, Suriya, who played the lead in Soorarai Pottru, will be bankrolling the film along with Jyotika under their banner 2D Entertainment and the Bollywood film house Abundantia Entertainment.

The filming of the remake has begun and Akshay shared a video of himself with Sudha and the female lead Radhika Madan on the sets of the film. Radhika is seen breaking a coconut, marking the beginning of the shoot.

The composer of the film Tweeted out saying that the remake will have a fresh background score and songs.

Soorarai Pottru, also starring Aparna Balamurali and Paresh Rawal is partly inspired by events from the life of Air Deccan founder GR Gopinath as described in his autobiography Simply Fly: A Deccan Odyssey. The film got its exclusive release on Amazon Prime Video and went on to become a huge hit.
